Urges Cairo envoy

Vance arrives in Jordan for more meetings

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance arrived in Jordan today to try to persuade King Hussein to send a representative to the Cairo talks between Israel and Egypt.

Vance said his talks in Israel showed the Jewish state was dedicated to peace and "working energetically toward that goal." His aides exuded optimism after their visits to Cairo and Jerusalem.

"Hussein is a true and valued friend and his advice and counsel at this time is particularly important to us," Vance said in an arrival statement.

In other developments: —Syrian Foreign Minister Abdul Halim Khaddam said in Damascus that President Hafez Assad will refuse to receive Vance on Tuesday if he is carrying a message from Israel.

Baghdad radio in Iraq reported that Vance was carrying two letters from Israeli Prime Minister Menahem Begin, one for Hussein and one for Assad. But the U.S. State Department denied Vance was carrying such letters.

—Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan said Egyptian President Anwar Sadat expects to make serious progress at the Cairo talks within a week to 10 days. Dayan said if Sadat cannot "deliver something" within that time on the overall Mideast conflict, he may agree to negotiate a separate peace settlement with Israel — something he repeatedly has said he does not want to do.

Dayan did not say what kind of concessions, if any, Sadat could expect from Israel. But he said Israel was prepared to discuss any subject. The Cairo talks are "not a birthday party where you go to give gifts," Dayan said.

Reporters traveling with Vance on his six-nation Mideast tour were told Jordan is expected to send a delegation to Cairo sometime next year to join the negotiations that Egypt and Israel began Wednesday.

However, Syria, Israel's other major adversary, remained as publicly opposed as ever to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's peace initiative. Khaddam said his government "will not attend the Cairo meetings even if they achieved some success... because they come as a result of Sadat's visit to Israel."

"Syria believes any political activity, whether in Cairo or Geneva, would serve capitulatory schemes and be a coverup for plots," Khaddam told reporters in Abu Dhabi, where President Hafez Assad conferred with President Zayed Bin Sultan al Nahyan of the United Arab Emirates.

SOME PEOPLE NEVER FORGET WHERE THEY BURIED THE HATCHET

Impact of rallies awaited

Angry farmers eye demonstrations

By The Associated Press

Thousands of farmers who drove tractors, pickup trucks and go-carts to weekend rallies in 30 states were back on the farm today waiting to see whether their demonstrations for higher prices for their products will have any effect.

The largest demonstration was in Atlanta where the state patrol estimated there were 5,000 tractors. Organizers of the Georgia rally claimed it was 17,000.

In Topeka, Kan., 5,000 people showed up at the state capital in one of the weekend's other large rallies.

They were organized by American Agriculture, the Colorado-based group claiming one million members which also is calling for a nationwide farm strike Dec. 14.

It is unclear what effect such a strike — which would include a halt to the purchase of farm equipment — would have.

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland has endorsed the strike, but is among those questioning whether it will be effective unless nearly all of the nation's 2 million commercial farmers join in.

Appearing on the CBS broadcast "Face the Nation," Bergland said Sunday that the government has to balance the needs of farmers, consumers and nations which import American farm products.

"We don't think it is a proper function of government to guarantee the kinds of profits that some people are demanding," said Bergland, a former Minnesota wheat farmer.

"We have to provide farmers with some measure of security, however, against the vagaries of international weather and politics and domestic economic circumstances," he said.

"The consumer is not going to be well fed at a reasonable cost if agriculture is driven to bankruptcy. We think to provide a federal guarantee at the cost of production is about as far as the government should go."

Bergland said he does not believe the farmers' protest — particularly a demand for 100 percent parity — will force any immediate changes in government policy.

Parity is a complex, theoretical yardstick based on an assumption that at 100 percent parity, the price a farmer gets for his goods, such as a bushel of wheat, should have the same purchasing power as the amount he sold it for during the 1910-14 base period used in the formula.

Coffee Break . . .

IN A U.S. Postal Service campaign to reduce injuries to mail carriers, Washington C.H. Postmaster LaRue L. Horsley today appealed to customers within the Washington C.H. delivery area to be aware of the slips and fall hazards presented on sidewalks, approach walks, steps and porches during the snow and ice season.

Horsley said the appeal is issued in consideration of this time of year when snow and freezing rain conditions are always impending, and following incidents last year which involved falls and injuries to mail carriers.

The Postal Service and letter carriers would appreciate it if residents of the Washington C.H. area would clean and sand or salt their sidewalks, steps, and porches as soon as possible after a storm to reduce the hazards associated with inclement weather.

"As postmaster, the person in charge of the loyal and dedicated men and women who deliver the mail in all types of weather, I solicit the cooperation of each citizen to assist in making the way safe, not only for the carriers but for their own family, friends, newsboy and others," Horsley said.

THE WASHINGTON C.H. Jaycee chapter has finalized plans for its annual Christmas lights decoration contest.

According to Ron Manuel and John Gault, project chairmen, the judging will be held beginning at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 21. Any family wishing for their home to be judged should leave their lights on from 6 p.m. to 12 midnight on Dec. 21.

All homes in Washington C.H. will be judged as in the past with the Jaycees divided into four groups to judge the four wards of the city. Any county residents wishing their home to

New proposal being readied

House panel eyes energy deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tired of waiting for Senate negotiators to act, House members of a congressional conference committee are preparing their own attempt to break a deadlock on the natural gas portion of President Carter's energy plan.

Sources said Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., was readying a proposal that House members hope will be acceptable to the 18 Senate conferees who are equally divided on one of the toughest elements of the Carter energy package.

The continuing deadlock has jeopardized conference committee agreement not only on natural gas policy but on the rest of the Carter energy plan.

After Mexican prisoner exchange

Women inmates fear harrassment

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The 10 American women still held at the Los Reyes Womens' Prison following the weekend prisoner exchange say they fear harassment from other inmates now that they are so few.

"It's really scary," said one woman who asked not to be named because she fears reprisals.

"I'm scared to death," said another. A third said prison officials told her not to talk to anyone "from the outside if you want to go home."

The women, interviewed at the prison, said there have been no outright threats since 27 other American women inmates left Friday and Saturday on chartered flights to San Diego along with 100 men from other Mexico City jail.

But the women said they feel unsafe now that the prison's foreign population has dropped to 10 Americans, one Canadian and two Britons.

"We felt before that no one would try anything because there were so many of us," one said. "But now that there are so few of us, anything can happen."

Some said they fear they'll be robbed of personal possessions, and one said she was afraid of being beaten "because I am prettier than a lot of them."

"We used to support a lot of them," one American said. "We had the money. Now that most are gone, this prison is going to go into a deep economic depression. We bought the food for many girls, and the clothes. I was helping support a woman who has 10 children."

There are still about 445 American men and women in Mexican jails. Some will be returned to the United States either later this month or early next year under the exchange treaty. Others are ineligible for return under terms of the prisoner swap. Most of the Americans were jailed on drug charges.

Peggy Pratt, 28, and Jane Rusk Monroe, 30, sisters from Houston, Tex., feel they'll be going home before Christmas. Both say they've "earned" their freedom through credits achieved by extra work in the prison during the past four years. They are serving six-year sentences for importing cocaine.

Joan Karen Beck, 27, of San Diego, thinks she's still got a long way to go.

gas prices, which critics say will give windfall profits to the industry and raise consumer heating and cooking costs to unfair levels.

Sources said the House compromise would keep the $1.75 price and the House provision extending price controls to the intrastate gas market.

"But we hope to get them (the Senate) to move on something," a House source said.

The conferees have been meeting off and on for a week in both public and private sessions, but there has been no progress.

The House negotiators have been waiting for the Senate conferees to reach some compromise among themselves and make a proposal to the House.

But on Friday Senate conferees reported their deadlock was as firm as it had been when the conference committee first met a week ago.

Meanwhile, House-Senate conferees who have been considering ways of keeping the Social Security System afloat are looking for a way to settle a dispute over a proposed tax break for parents of college students.

The conferees have agreed on a $227 billion payroll tax increase over the next 10 years, but they were stymied by the tuition credit proposal, which would cost about $1.25 billion.

Senators are insisting on a compromise over the tuition credit, but Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., said six of the 10 House conferees are adamant in their opposition to it. The disagreement could prevent congressional enactment of the Social Security plan this year.

Joseph A. Califano Jr., the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, has said he would "seriously consider urging a presidential veto of the Social Security bill if it is paired with the tuition credit."

Donations mount to replace poor children's stolen toys

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Corporations, small-change donors, truckers and even a wandering wino are pitching in to steal Christmas back from a "grinch" who looted a $15,000 cache of toys intended for poor children.

By late Sunday, the fire department reported it had received about $40,000 worth of donations and toys to replace those stolen or wrecked last Wednesday night.

Fireman had been using a vacant fire house to store its toys, which they had planned to give to 70,000 children this year. But someone broke in and loaded a pickup with more than $10,000 worth of toys.

Police arrived early Thursday to find a dozen teen-agers playing among another $5,000 worth of wrecked toys. The youths said the thief told them to help themselves.

The culprit, reminiscent of the villain in the "Grinch Who Stole Christmas," a children's story by Dr. Seuss, remained at large today.

But his crime whipped up a surge of charity that Lt. Dan McDermott, head of the fire department's 25th annual toy drive, called "utterly fantastic." Donations came by mail from up and down California. Even a wino got into the spirit.

"I want to write you a check before

I'm too drunk to write my name," he told firemen in Station No. 1. He signed and donated a $50 traveler's check.

Truck driver Terry LeBlanc — who is hailed on the highways as "Terrible Terry" — hit the CB radio waves and told his buddies he needed their help to fill up a truck with toys. He got it.

"I think it's a dirty shame that someone would go out and rip off little kids," LeBlanc said.

Bechtel, an international construction and engineering firm, purchased $15,000 worth of toys and presented them to the fire department. Mattel Toys promised to send $8,000 worth of its products. Varner Ward Leasing Co. provided a $5,000 check. Macy's said it would donate $5,000 today.

The San Francisco Giants baseball club pitched in with 1,008 jackets, 1,234 T-shirts and 360 baseball bats.

"And people with quarters and 50 cents have been coming in all day," McDermott said.

Mayor George Moscone, who provided $1,000 from the city youth fund, added: "The people have responded so splendidly in making up for this act of Scrooge-ism. This just proves that there are still two things that can break down all the cynicism in the world — Christmas and kids."

Churchill's widow dies

LONDON (AP) — Lady Spencer Churchill, widow of Britain's wartime leader Sir Winston Churchill, died today at her home in London after a heart attack. She was 92.

Her grandson, Winston Churchill, announced her death.

He said she was lunching with her secretary when she was stricken. Lady Spencer Churchill, named Clementine but nicknamed "Clemmie" by Sir Winston, began auctioning off his paintings and other family heirlooms quietly this year to help meet expenses.

She had been in failing health for several years and progressively had retreated into seclusion since the death in 1965 of her husband of 57 years. He was 90 at his death.

Last July she underwent abdominal surgery at King Edward VII hospital in London. The reasons for the operation was never made public.

Shocked Britons had suggested special legislation or an appeal to provide for her needs, but she said she deplored any such idea and it was dropped.

Lady Spencer Churchill was born April 1, 1885 to Sir Henry Hozier and Lady Blanche Hozier. Her mother was descended from a long line of British earls, as was Sir Winston — a grandson of the Duke of Marlborough.

By all accounts, it was love at first sight when Clementine Ogilvy Hozier, the 23-year-old daughter of a Dragoon Guards colonel, and Sir Winston met at a fashionable dinner party in 1908. He was a 34-year-old cabinet minister.

Churchill proposed soon after in the gardens of Blenheim Palace, his family's 16th-century estate. They wed on Sept. 12, 1908 at St. Margaret's church, London, within sight and sound of Big Ben.

Revamping of price index set to measure inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is trying to get a better idea of how deeply inflation affects typical American families by revamping the way it calculates the Consumer Price Index.

In the next few months, the Labor Department will begin sending more part-time workers out to record the prices of goods in stores around the country. They'll also be jotting down prices for a wider range of products.

The government has spent $50 million over the last eight years to revamp the index, which has a direct effect on the incomes of half the American public, says Julius Shiskin, commissioner of labor statistics.

The Labor Department interviewed about 20,000 families and individuals about their spending habits and had another 18,000 keep diaries of everything they bought for two weeks.

It's all part of an attempt to make the index reflect the impact of inflation not just on urban wage earners, but on all city and suburban residents.

Under the new system, instead of looking only at what urban hourly workers spend, the government hopes to gauge the impact of inflation on professionals, the self-employed, the poor, unemployed and the retired.

And instead of the 400 items in the old index, several thousand will be included in the new survey, according to a recent Labor Department publication.

The index is announced around the third week of each month. It begins with about 250 to 300 part-timers marking down the cost of a typical market basket of goods. Those figures, sent to Washington for analysis, become the index.

In the most recent report, the department said October prices rose 0.3 percent for the third straight month, a relatively mild gain.

The October index was 184.5, meaning it cost $184.50 for the same goods that could have been bought for $100 in 1967.

Collective bargaining agreements covering more than 8.5 million workers tie wages to the index. Pensions and other benefits are adjusted to changes in the index for about 50 million Social Security recipients, food stamp users and retired military personnel and federal employees.

Funds for meals provided to more than 25 million school children are affected by the index, which even influences some rents, royalties and child support payments.

With the upcoming changes, the government says the index should be accurate for about 80 percent of the population, double its present applicability.

Siamese twins born at Marion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — No decision is expected before later this week on whether to surgically separate a set of Siamese twins, according to a spokesman at Children's Hospital.

Doctors currently are conducting tests on the twins, who were born Friday at Marion Hospital in Marion and transferred here.

The Labor Department will spend about $8 million a year on the index, which still will not cover rural areas. The department thinks that would be too expensive.

Stock prices move ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices moved ahead today, extending the rally that began late last week.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks rose 1.82 to 817.05 in the first half hour.

Gainers took a 7-5 lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The market began to build up forward momentum late last week as the dollar showed signs of stabilizing against other major currencies after its recent slump.

Brokers said traders appeared to be buying on hopes that a stronger dollar would stimulate foreign interest in U.S. stocks.

Southwestern Public Service led the active list in the early going, down 3/4 at 15 1/4.

On Friday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 8.32 to 815.23, cutting its loss for the week to 8.75 points.

New breast cancer detection form found 80 pct. accurate

NEW YORK (AP) — A new form of breast cancer detection that uses temperature measurement instead of radiation has been found 80 percent accurate in detecting malignancies at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center.

The technique was described by Sloan-Kettering on Sunday as combining complete safety with high accuracy.

If the findings are confirmed, the new technique could be a substitute for mammography, which uses radiation. Mammography could be reserved for further testing on women who are found to have suspicious lesions with the new method.

There has been controversy over the use of mammography in mass screening programs. Critics say the radiation may actually cause cancer, while supporters say it has found early and otherwise undetected breast cancer.

"I hope we're not being premature in announcing this," said Dr. Ruth Snyder, the principal investigator, but she said she was confident the findings were valid.

The test is based on the heat patterns emanating from tissue, called thermography. The test — Graphic Stress Thermometry or GST — also can detect benign or non-cancerous breast lesions and distinguish them from malignant tissue, she said. The test measures the difference between the temperature of breast tissue and temperature of the forehead. Areas of the breast that show a higher

Castro invites solons to Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban President Fidel Castro has invited U.S. Reps. Richard Nolan, D-Minn., and Fred Richmond, D-N.Y., to return to Cuba for deep sea fishing, Nolan says.

Havana last week, said no arrangements had been made for the future fishing excursion.

However, he added, "We were told that Castro doesn't extend these invitations unless he really means it."

Pension plan mortality

When it passed the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, Congress did not expect it to scuttle thousands of retirement plans in the private sector. That is what seems to be happening as a result of the legislation, however. This suggests that perhaps Congress had better take a second look.

In a sense, that is already being done. A congressional effort is under way to find out why so many pension plans are being abolished. Whether this will lead to amendment of the act remains to be seen.

The termination rate is high, but as yet no one knows exactly how high. When the law took effect in September 1974 there were some 500,000 plans. The House Ways and Means Committee has been told by Internal Revenue Commissioner Jerome Kurtz that "something in the area of 30 per cent" of those plans "have been or will be terminated." That amounts of 150,000 plans.

The federal law does not require employers to offer pensions. What it does require is that pension plans must meet minimum standards, and that funds be earmarked to pay the benefits. Many firms complain about the trouble and cost of complying with the government regulations.

One source of concern is that as pension plans are abandoned there may be increasing pressure on the Social Security system. Social Security is not meant to be the sole source of retirement income for wage earners in the upper brackets, but more and more such wage earners will have to depend on it as employer-operated pension plans are phased out. For this and other reasons, Congress should consider amendments to minimize harmful side effects of what is basically a sound piece of legislation.

THESE DAYS....By John Chamberlain

How confused can Carter get?

President George Meany of the AFL-CIO has instructed Al Barkan, who heads his Committee on Political Education (COPE), to blacklist any Democratic congressman who took labor money for the 1976 campaign and then proceeded to vote against the common situs picketing bill. But this attempt to intimidate refractory legislators does not reckon with reality. It could, if the pun be permitted, be a case of Meany's Barkan being worse than his bite.

Meany's reason for threatening Congress is that he is fearful that the current labor "reform" bill, which would make it more difficult for employers to plead their case before the National Labor Relations Board, will have trouble getting by the U.S. Senate. The AFL-CIO argues that the legislation is merely designed to make collective bargaining easier, but Reed Larson's Right to Work Committee sees it as an entering wedge in a campaign to repeal Section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, which now permits individual states to outlaw the compulsory union shop. The proposed new legislation would not change the law in the 20 states that now maintain Right to Work provisions, but in other states it would enable union organizers to accuse employers of "bad faith" if they saw fit to resist demands that all workers be required to pay so-called "agency shop" fees as a condition of holding a job.

Most of the 20 Right to Work states are in the South. The new labor law "reform" would encourage a union drive below the Mason-Dixon Line to force employers everywhere to conform a national pattern. Why, so the union argument runs, should Southern states be allowed to use Right to Work laws as bait to attract runaway industry from the so-called Frost Belt of the upper Middle West and the Northeast? It has not occurred to Mr. Meany that the drift of industry to the Sun Belt might better be reversed if the Frost Belt states were to pass Right to Work laws on their own. Far from resulting in a spate of "union busting," a universal application of the Right to Work privilege might compel union leaders to think more in terms of industry profitability than they do now. Then they could turn their attention to sharing the profits, and labor would be better off everywhere.

The truth is that American wage earners, both north and south, have come to distrust union bosses who rely on compulsion to make organizing easier. Union membership is now down to 20.1 percent of our total labor force, which represents a 20 percent drop since 1955. It would be interesting to know how much of the 20.1 percent is held to union membership by compulsion. Between 1974 and 1976 the unions sustained a net loss of 767,000 dues-paying members even in spite of the laws that, in most states, favor the union shop.

According to the Right to Work Committee, the number of elections to withdraw from union representation has increased from 200 in 1967 to 600 in 1975. This certainly does not argue that workers, in the South as well as the North, are crying for more compulsion rather than less.

And why is Jimmy Carter so enamored of a labor law "reform" that would encourage a drive to abolish Right to Work in the South? Since 1957, according to U.S. News and World Report, the population of 17 states below the Mason-Dixon Line has risen by 30 percent. Employment in the South in the same period of time has jumped 75.3 percent. And real personal income per person has gone up 75.7 percent. In the Northeast, by contrast, population has increased 14.9 percent, employment 18.7 percent and real personal income 43.5 percent.

The comparative statistics go to prove that the South has been doing things right and the Northeast has been doing things wrong. Yet Jimmy Carter wants to impose the labor compulsion that pertains in the Northeast — and in the upper Midwest as well — on the South, which is his own regional base. How confused can Jimmy Carter get?

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE
What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 13

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)

Your planetary influences advise against useless activity, negative attitudes, opposing others without reason. A day for exercising tolerance and plain common sense.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)

A day in which you MUST avoid extremes: They will tempt in various ways. Some situations may prove difficult, but all can be made easier through trying.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

A splendid day for improving methods and for experimenting generally. With your innate enthusiasm, you can give a life to practically any project.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

You may consider making some changes now, but be careful not to make too many, or to go too far in any one direction. A good adjustment should work out well, however.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

It will take patience, soft words and a great deal of humor to keep some things (and persons) in line now. But well worth it — and for a long time to come.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Stellar influences now suggest prudence, careful deliberation before acting. Don't "toss a coin" or make decisions in a haphazard way. Be painstaking.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Stellar influences excellent! Both artistry and imagination stimulated. Use both well and results will please.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Weigh fitness and the validity of proposed action carefully. Keep eyes on the farthest horizon possible as you steer your course.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You may have an unpleasant situation to deal with, or some complexity in a job matter. But your optimism and know-how can turn things to advantage if you don't panic.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Information needed to consummate a business deal now forthcoming. With the added facts on hand, proceed as originally planned.

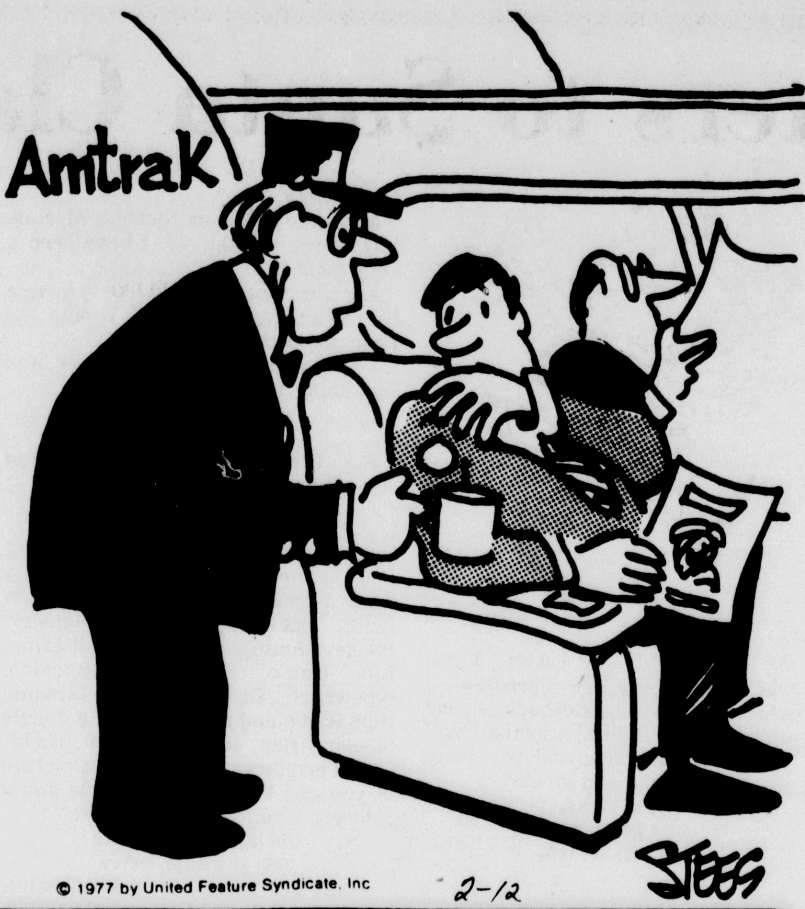

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Be cautious in dealing with associates. Some may urge you to make certain commitments against your better judgment. Don't let yourself be pressured.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Your intuition and self-reliance stimulated now. And both will be needed if you are to solve some possibly "tricky" situations. Don't yield to anxiety, however.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with keen mental and physical abilities which usually coordinate extraordinarily well to produce a high level of success. You are innately logical, objective and perceptive in your thinking and, properly educated, of course, could succeed in almost any field of your choosing. Your fair-mindedness and keen sense of justice make you an outstanding mediator or arbitrator and your idealism and integrity inspire others to follow your lead. You could make an outstanding success in the business, financial, literary or legal worlds, but, unlike many Sagittarians, where the arts are concerned, you may be better at selling than creating. Don't let your fierce sense of independence alienate others.

"BLESS YOU, SIR."

Greek king's tomb stirring controversy

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — An archeological controversy is developing over the validity of the claimed discovery of the tomb of King Philip II of Macedonia, father of Alexander the Great.

The claim was announced last month by Salonica University archeology Prof. Manolis Andronikos and was hailed by many as the "discovery of the century."

Culture Minister George Plytas said Friday: "I am personally more convinced of the evidence that it is Philip's tomb. We are, however, always interested in other views or contrary evidence, and we are keeping an open mind on the issue."

But former Salonica University history Prof. Dimitrios Kanatsoulis, and former Ioannina University classical archeology Prof. Fotis Petsas, who was superintendent of antiquities in the excavation area between 1955-65, both doubt the claim.

Kanatsoulis says there is no evidence that Vergina in northern Greece, where the tomb was found, was the capital of Macedonia. He said it is an "undoubted fact" that the capital was known as "Aigai," and that there is greater evidence that it was situated alongside the present town of Edessa, 40 miles from the tomb site.

"I cannot with absolute certainty deny that the tomb is Philip's," Kanatsoulis said in a written statement. "All I want to stress at this point is that the unknown little ancient town of Vergina can hardly be claimed to be the Macedonian capital. In that case, what on earth would Philip's tomb be doing there, since it is known that he was buried in the capital?"

Philip was assassinated in 336 B.C. prior to a planned military campaign against the Persians and while attending the wedding of his daughter Cleopatra. He was then succeeded by Alexander the Great, who was only 20.

Petsas said although he was "highly respectful" of Andronikos' abilities, he could "hardly be convinced" that the tomb is Philip's. He said:

"The French had begun excavating in Vergina since 1857, and I was personally involved in renewed efforts dating since 1937. And yet there is not a single piece of evidence that this was the Macedonian capital."

He said that over this period tombs of 30 Macedonian nobles have been discovered in the broader area, all of them looted, yet much more impressive than the alleged tomb of Philip.

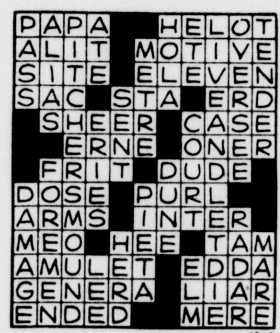

Petsas said that by comparison to many of them "Philip's tomb" is "tiny and humble," and the only one found unlooted. He asked:

"Is it possible that the Galatian mercenaries of Pyrrus, who looted the Macedonian tombs some 60 years after Philip's death, took everything except the most prized treasure of all?"

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Abby's Christmas

gift suggestions

DEAR READERS: Christmastime will soon be here, so take a tip from me and do your Christmas shopping early.

If you're wondering what to give Aunt Matilda or Great Grandpa, who don't get out much, let me tell you what NOT to give them: no dusting powder, after-shave or cologne. (They probably have several unopened boxes gathering dust on their closet shelves.)

Grandpa doesn't need another necktie, and Grandma doesn't really want any more brooches, necklaces or bracelets.

With the price of groceries up so high, folks who live alone on a fixed income would probably be delighted to receive a basket of assorted groceries. Include small cans of salmon, chicken, ham, tuna, vegetables, fruit, instant coffee, tea bags, crackers, cookies and instant soup mix.

Old folks can always use lined stationery with envelopes and a generous supply of postage stamps. (And enclose some few felt-tip pens, too.)

Shut-ins would appreciate a box of greeting cards for all occasions, so they can send birthday, anniversary, graduation, get-well and condolence cards to others. (and be a sport and stamp some envelopes.)

Don't give anyone a gift of clothing unless you're absolutely sure the size is right. And that goes for the color and style, too.

If you're tempted to pass along a scarf, purse, wallet or some useless little doodad you received for Christmas three years ago, please don't. It's a pretty fair bet the recipient will find it just as useless as you did. (Besides, YOU might get it back the year after that.)

If someone on your gift list is living on a pension, a check for any amount would be much more appreciated than a frivolous little trinket. Or give someone who's counting his pennies a year's subscription to the daily newspaper or to a magazine you know he'll enjoy.

Don't give gifts of wine or liquor unless you're sure the recipients imbibe. Candy, nuts and fruitcake makes wonderful gifts for those who aren't counting their calories, but have compassion for those who are, and lead them not into temptation.

Resist giving toddlers stuffed animals and dolls that are bigger than THEY are. And parents will thank you for not sending their children horns, drums, sirens or whistles. If you give a child a game or book, be sure it's in the right age range.

Instead of giving someone a gift with permission to "take it back and exchange it if it's not what you want," why not save yourself (and them) much time and effort by giving them a gift certificate in the first place.

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed PEDANTIC PUDIT took you to task for having made a "grammatical error."

Punit should know that there is no such thing as a "grammatical error," but there may be an "error" in grammar!

Sign me as a teacher of English, NOT as some say, "an English teacher."

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, Dec. 12, the 346th day of 1977. There are 19 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1642, the Dutch navigator, Abel Tasman, discovered New Zealand.

On this date:
In 1792, 22-year-old Ludwig van Beethoven paid 19 cents for his first music lesson — from Franz Joseph Haydn.

In 1894, Japanese troops invaded Korea.

In 1937, the U.S. gunboat Panay was sunk by the Japanese on the Yangtze River in China.

In 1944, Tokyo was partially evacuated because of firebombing by American planes.

In 1963, Kenya became an independent republic within the British Commonwealth.

In 1970, a state of emergency was declared in Britain because of a power slowdown due to labor discontent.

Ten years ago: Republican Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and a party of four who were visiting South Vietnam escaped an enemy attack upon them at Dak Son.

Five years ago: The Apollo 17 astronauts, exploring the surface of the moon, drove their electric vehicle to an ancient avalanche to search for the oldest lunar rocks.

One year ago: Secretary of State Henry Kissinger returned to Washington after talks with British officials in London on the future of the white-ruled African country of Rhodesia.

Today's birthday: Frank Sinatra is 62 years old.

Thought for today: There's nothing so exhausting as the management of men, except the management of women — Benjamin Disraeli, British statesman, 1804-1881.

"Another raise? Who do you think I am, Santa Claus?"

HHH voluntary guinea pig; happy warrior won't quit post

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Just as he has dedicated 66 zesty years of living to the betterment of the American people, Hubert Humphrey is devoting the days of his cancer treatment to the medical benefit of mankind.

The undaunted "Happy Warrior" is quietly permitting cancer experts to use experimental therapy techniques on his incurable ailment.

The ultimate story of courage has gone modestly unmentioned by the Minnesotan and discreetly withheld from the public by his doctors.

Humphrey makes the round of public tribute, drawing tears and affectionate admiration with the trademarks of his career — ebullience, humor, optimism and courage.

But one of the public limelight the former vice president is quietly reporting to the National Cancer Institute to undergo uncomfortable and novel therapy.

After removal of a cancerous bladder in October 1976, Humphrey could have opted for a plush VIP suite at Walter Reed Army Medical Center or Bethesda Naval Hospital and been spared anguish by shots of morphine and similar pain-killers.

Instead, Humphrey deliberately chose to become a sort of guinea pig for researchers at the National Cancer Institute. He was aware that his form of bladder cancer and how it spreads is far less understood than the more prevalent lung and prostate cancers.

The primary purpose of the doctors at the institute is assuredly to prolong Humphrey's life. But they can also study the course of bladder cancer in a living victim and how the disease responds to two innovative chemotherapy treatments. Both treatments are still highly experimental.

One requires the taking of an oral chemotherapy agent, Hexamethylmelamine. As a side effect, it causes fatigue, nausea and severe loss of appetite but Humphrey gamely reports for his treatments. The treatment has been more widely used in Europe than in the United States.

By an unusual coincidence, Humphrey once sponsored and helped get through the Senate an aid program to allow Hexamethylmelamine to be tested in Egypt.

Humphrey also takes another experimental drug known in the laboratories as "5-FU." It must be injected directly into an artery and one researcher told us "it hurts." The unpleasant and painful treatment has rarely been used in cancer cases such as Humphrey's and one scientist predicted the data he is providing unquestionably will be useful in helping future victims of bladder cancer.

At a dinner in his honor recently, Humphrey made a fleeting reference to the physical toll the chemotherapy has taken. He mentioned having gone through 10 days of "intensive chemotherapy which has just about knocked me for a loop" but cheerfully added it helped him "get enough strength to be with you tonight."

Members of the institute research team working with Humphrey speak of his valiant help in awed and poignant respect. Some compare his willingness to be a guinea pig to the tradition of Major Walter Reed's volunteers who allowed themselves to be infected with yellow fever to prove that the killer disease was carried by the anopheles mosquito.

"He's just a fighter," one worker said of Humphrey. "He's a fighter in every aspect of his character, even including this one."

COMPUTER SECURITY: The U.S. government is finally getting around to safeguarding its 10,000 computers which handle billions of dollars in federal funds.

A Senate investigation a year ago showed that there were no security precautions to prevent a criminal mastermind from getting access to the computers. The electronic brains blink out orders for Treasury payments to farmers, welfare and Social Security recipients, colleges and government projects of every description. The Senate probe found only the CIA and the Defense Department ran background checks on people hired as computer programmers. It was "open sesame" in every other department and agency.

Now, at last, the White House has been sparked into action. The Office of Management and Budget is reviewing computer security throughout the federal establishment. An OMB official told us that tighter regulations will be forthcoming soon.

On Capitol Hill, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., has introduced legislation to deal with potential computer swindles and thefts. The measure, which has powerful bipartisan support, would set up stiff penalties for computer crimes and make it a federal offense to tamper with any government computer.

Interestingly, Ribicoff's proposed bill would include computers at Leavenworth penitentiary where inmates are being trained on machines that distribute payments to the soil bank program, the Commodity Credit Corporation and approximately 20 projects involved in disaster relief funds.

A spokesman for Federal Prison

Industries told us security at Leavenworth is excellent. He said there have been no instances of a graduate from the federal prison using his newly acquired craft to commit a computer crime. Indeed, a number of ex-convicts have been hired by large private firms.

Man gets surprise while smoking pipe

STOCKPORT, Ohio (AP) — W.H. "Heck" Harkins enjoys a pipe, but he never imagined he'd get as big a bang out of smoking as he got Sunday.

Harkins was watching a football game on television and took his pipe from his pocket, packed it and fired up.

Seconds later, the pipe fired back. Harkins said he has been doing some trapping lately and often keeps his pipe in the same pocket with his .22-caliber ammunition.

Apparently one of the small bullets had lodged upright in the bowl of the pipe.

He said he thought something was amiss as he was filling the bowl because the pipe wouldn't hold as much tobacco as usual.

He lit it anyway. When it became hot enough the "cartridge" exploded, the bullet struck a heating pipe above him and fell behind the couch where he was sitting. He was not injured.

"I've been trying to tell him it's dangerous to smoke," Harkins' wife said.

Shooting rumors denied by actor

TAOS, N.M. (AP) — Actor Dennis Hopper returned from Europe and denied rumors that he was wounded in a shooting incident.

"I just wonder who told him (that)," said Hopper of an item that appeared last week in Earl Wilson's nationally syndicated newspaper column. Wilson had said Hopper had been shot in the head by "a girlfriend's girlfriend."

Hopper said he first heard about the report in an anxious telephone call from his agent.

He said a "girlfriend's girlfriend" was staying at his Taos house but that he had not met her before this week.

Nurses hold Yule party

Christmas candles, beautiful wreaths and holiday music filled the home of Mrs. Marvin Roszmann as the members of the Fayette County Professional Nurses Association braved the snowy weather to gather for their annual Christmas party.

Punch and hors d'oeuvres were served followed by a delicious meal catered by Maxine Gilmer.

A short business meeting was held and the following new members were introduced: Mrs. Donald Willman, Mrs. Bernard Gumble, Mrs. Roger Fuller and Mrs. Sandy Stevens.

A delightful and inspiring piano and vocal program was presented by Rev. Phillip Brooks, associate minister of the Grace Methodist Church, which included several carols sung by all the members. Rev. Brooks concluded the presentation by playing "White Christmas" and then sang "O Holy Night" upon request. The program was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The officers who served as hostesses for the evening meeting were: Mrs. Dean Tarbill, Mrs. Roger Smith, Mrs. Howard Wright, Mrs. John Halliday and Mrs. Richard Maddux.

Other members attending were Mrs. William Black, Miss Janice Campbell, Mrs. Evelyn Conaton, Mrs. Ralph Douglass, Mrs. Richard Fenton, Mrs. Jerry Fraley, Mrs. Kay Gillen, Mrs. Neil Helfrich, Mrs. Glenn Jacobsen, Mrs. Joseph Jordan, Mrs. Mildred Kimball, Mrs. Eugene Ladrach, Mrs. Abdiel Lorente, Mrs. Michael Maust, Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. Richard Owens, Mrs. Robert Robertson, Mrs. Gary Shaffer, Mrs. Byers Shaw, Mrs. William Sollars, Mrs. Corrine Sperry, Mrs. Robert Wientjes and Mrs. Bernard Witherspoon.

WCTU holds Yule program

Mrs. Cloyce Copley extended gracious hospitality to the Washington C.H. Woman's Christian Temperance Union at her home Friday afternoon. The home was beautifully decorated using the Christmas theme.

The meeting was opened with prayer lead by Miss Marian Christopher, president. Due to the absence of the secretary and treasurer, no reports were given, but those reports will be heard at the January meeting. WCTU dues will be collected at that time.

For this Christmas season's program, Mr. Copley gave a most interesting and timely reading of "No Room."

Mrs. Albert Bitters gave a report on the recommendations the Ohio WCTU president presented at the national organization's meeting for the year 1977-78.

Mrs. Eldon Bethards read a Christmas prayer written by Mrs. Dorothy Meadows.

Following the Christmas meeting all were seated in the dining room for a delicious dessert course.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carsie Garringer on Jan. 27.

Jeff Chapter, 300, O.E.S. installs new 1978 officers

Jefferson Chapter, 300, Order of the Eastern Star, met in the Masonic Temple for the purpose of installation of officers for 1978. The room was tastefully decorated with Christmas appointments.

Due to the absence of Worthy Matron Eunice Griffith, Deputy Grand Matron Elaine Bowman, assisted by Worthy Patron Eugene Griffith opened the meeting in regular form. Honored guests were presented and escorted to the East. Those so honored were Past Grand Matron Irene Thornburg, Deputy Grand Matron of District 23 Elaine Bowman, and Grand Representative to the state of Colorado Ruth Cline. Others presented were Worthy Matrons and Worthy Patrons of other chapters and 27 Past Matrons and Past Patrons of Jefferson chapter. Also two honored Masons were Harry Allen and Ronald Sears of York Court of Honor. Three 50-year members recognized were Florence Seibert of Jefferson Chapter, Bertha French of Jamestown Chapter, and Eleanor Silvers of Home City Chapter, Springfield.

The Chapter was then recessed for preparation of installation. Installing Grand Officers were Installing Grand Officer Irene Thornburg, Royal Chapter of Washington C.H., Inviting Grand Marshal Mary Ellen Valentine, Installing Grand Marshal, Katy Ritenour, Installing Grand Conductress, Kay Cline, Grand Chaplain, Catharine Baird, Grand Organist, Donna Smith, Grand Warder, Ivis Ritenour, Grand Sentinel, Charles Cline, all of Jefferson Chapter.

Those in charge of chairs were Eugene Griffith and Carroll Ritenour.

The 1978 officers installed were: Worthy Matron-Margaret Dowler; Worthy Patron-Dale Ritenour; Associate Matron-Deborah Sears; Associate Patron-Ronald Sears; Secretary-Eunice Lou Spahr; Treasurer-Martha Reedy; Conductress-Helen L. Woodmansee; Associate Conductress-Pamela McCoy; Chaplain-Kenneth Spahr; Marshal-Jack Hare; Organist-Barbara Sears; Adah-Gayle Mercer; Ruth-Ruth Ann Barlett; Esther-Vicki Merriman; Electa-Gwendolyn Sams; Warda-Nellie Hardman; and Sentinel-William Allen.

Those who will serve as pages are Martha Allen and Dorothy Hare. Following the installation the Worthy Matron sang "Only a Prayer Away." Junior Past Patron Eugene Griffith was then presented the Past Patron's pin, a gift from the chapter by Dale Ritenour. The new Worthy Matron was also given a gift from her sisters Donna and Mavene Smith.

The Grand Officers each made a few well chosen remarks and the officers retired. A reception, given by the Past Matrons Circle, followed in the dining room with Ruth Sheeley and Bernice Janes as co-chairmen, assisted by Mary Jo Kelly, Dale Davidson and Rowena Wright. The beautiful tea table was artistically decorated with a centerpiece of red and white flowers, a gift of a friend Margaret Morrow, and red candles which carried out the Worthy Matron's theme "Love, her motto-Love One Another, and the colors of red, the rose her flower, and Honored Station- Electa. The cardinal was also used as a symbol of the matrons of District 23.

Ivis Ritenour and Kay Ritenour presided at the tea table.

Ninety members and guests were present. Guests came from Circleville, Chillicothe, New Holland, Waverly, Bloomingburg, Williamsport, Washington C.H., Jamestown, New Vienna, and Springfield.

Lady Bird receives lasting endowment

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Friends of Lady Bird Johnson gave her a $1.25 million birthday present — a permanent endowment for the Lyndon B. Johnson Library.

"This was beautiful and dear and wonderful of you all," Mrs. Johnson told about 1,000 special guests at the end of the hour-long "A National Tribute to Lady Bird Johnson" on Sunday.

"The greatest thing of all," she said, "is that this means this library will continue its programs, its seminars and most of all it will be free to all who come to see, including the little school children."

Mrs. Johnson's 65th birthday is not until Dec. 22, but the birthday idea was used to promote the drive for a permanent endowment for the library.

The name of the City of Lima, Ohio, was suggested by Patrick Goode whose idea originated with the fact that the quinine used so widely in that originally swampy area came from Lima, Peru. AP

MRS. THEODORE BLACK

St. Colman Catholic Church setting for recent marriage

Miss Mary Anne Binzel and Theodore Black exchanged marriage vows on Saturday, Nov. 26, in St. Colman Catholic Church. The Rev. David Petry and the Rev. Monsignor Leonard Fick performed the ceremony for the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Philip E. Binzel and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Black Sr., of Washington C. H.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight chiffon. It featured a high neck, sheer yoke and a fitted bodice. Silk embossed Venise lace accented the neckline, bodice and Edwardian sleeves. The slightly gathered A-line skirt flowed into a chapel length train. Miss Binzel's gown was complete with a fingertip mantilla veil of silk illusion, edged with Venise lace, and held in place by a lace Camelot cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of white silk roses, dried baby's breath and miniature carnations. Her only jewelry was a dainty cameo on a gold chain, a gift from the groom.

The maid of honor was Miss Connie Hessler of Indianapolis, Ind., who wore a Neptune green formal length gown of polyester interlock knit fashioned with a high neck, fitted bodice, full length sleeves, and a graceful A-line skirt. A wide yoke of Cluny lace adorned the bodice and bands of the same lace encircled the waist and accented the sleeves. Her headpiece of illusion, held in place by a floral band, was dyed to match her gown. She carried a fireside basket of silk Sonia roses, dried baby's breath, Neptune green wheat and touches of angel wing foliage.

The bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Binzel and Miss Nancy Binzel, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Edward Binzel of Lexington, Ky., sister-in-law of the bride. They wore gowns identical to the maid of honor.

Dr. Gary Junk served as best man. Seating the wedding guests were William R. Black Jr., and Lee Black, brothers of the groom, and Edward Binzel, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a floor length gown of cypress green qiana knit. Her corsage of cream cymbidium completed her outfit. The groom's mother wore a floor length gown of paprika qiana knit and a corsage of pale green cymbidium. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Marian Hasslacker of Stamford, Conn., and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Jane Black of Clearwater, Fla., wore corsages of white Georgianna orchids.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Terrace Lounge Restaurant. Hostesses were Mrs. Dennis Breitigan and Miss Ann Black, both sisters of the groom, and Mrs. Gary Junk. They wore corsages of mixed fall flowers.

The new Mrs. Black, a graduate of Marian College, Indianapolis, Ind., is employed as a teacher in the Washington C. H. City Schools. Mr. Black, a graduate of Franklin University, Columbus, is employed by the Chappel Door Company.

The wedding party and relatives were entertained at a lovely dinner party at the Terrace Lounge following the wedding rehearsal Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. William R. Black Sr.

Jeff DAR to hold Christmas meeting

The William Horney Chapter of the DAR in Jeffersonville will hold its annual Christmas meeting Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Clair E. Fultz.

Dr. Haskell Moore, pastor of the Jeffersonville United Methodist Church, will be the speaker for the meeting. There will also be an election of delegates to the DAR Continental Congress.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Fultz will be Mrs. Ance Creamer, Mrs. Marvin Stockwell, Mrs. Dale Horney, Mrs. Lyon Cooper, Mrs. C.S. Kelley, Mrs. Reynold Slaughter, and Mrs. Dale Kirk.

A board meeting will be held preceding the chapter meeting.

Jacob Parrott of Fairfield County who took part in the famed Union railroad raid in the south during the Civil War, was the first soldier to be awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, in 1863. —AP

TV Viewing

By TOM JORY

Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television's news and public affairs commentators might consider a little silence now and then, just to give the viewer time to think, says NBC's Edwin Newman.
"I believe some silence is helpful to thought," says Newman, himself a thoughtful man, "and I believe to some extent radio and television discourage thought and reflection."
"I'm talking about something everybody in this business comes to at one time or another. You're on the air and you want to show you're more amusing and more trenchant than the people you're working with, or against."
"We ought in some sense encourage thought," Newman says. "I'm saying we ought to make an effort to shut up."
Newman speaks with the authority of a correspondent who's been on the spot more than once — often, he says, in situations in which a little dead air might have been better than commentary.
"When John F. Kennedy's body was returned to Washington in 1963," he recalls, "I was on a building over Pennsylvania Avenue. And when the caisson bearing the coffin came into view, I had to show I could be more vivid and more colorful in my description than anyone else along the line."

"As I was talking, I heard someone in the control room say, 'Tell him to shut up.' It was very good advice."
Newman joined NBC News in London in 1952, after working 11 years with International News Service and United Press. He later ran NBC's news bureaus in London, Rome and Paris, and has been based in New York since 1961.
He's been the substitute host on NBC's popular "Today" program several times, has appeared on "Meet the Press" and often reports on news specials and documentaries.
Two best-selling books, "Strictly Speaking: Will America Be the Death of English," published in 1974, and "A Civil Tongue," published two years later, earned Newman a reputation as a watchdog of the English language.
Newman, with a quarter-century in the business, is a particularly worthy observer of television's role as a provider of news.
TV news, he says, shouldn't attempt to replace the newspaper, "and I doubt that anyone in television believes that."
"To me, the key question is, how broad a service are we to provide? If people are dependent on us, then how much should we do? Should we offer programs we know will interest only a small segment of the public?"

By federal government

More job data eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government will soon require information on sex, race and ethnic background from federal job applicants, after strongly opposing any reference to that information since the early 1960s.
The federal government says such data, once criticized by civil rights groups as contributing to discrimination against minorities, are needed to determine whether federal agencies are complying with affirmative action goals.

The change reportedly has the approval of President Carter and the same civil rights organizations that previously opposed the inclusion of such information on applications.
"The pendulum has now turned," said a Civil Service Commission spokesman. "The objective of this (change) is positive — to make sure the affirmative action programs are working."

The spokesman, Joseph Oglesby, said the change will initially apply to only five or six job titles under Civil Service jurisdiction, but will be gradually expanded to encompass all applicants for federal jobs sometime next year.
And he said the Carter administration is "on the verge of reaching agreement" among federal agencies on guidelines to make it government policy that such information be required from applicants seeking jobs in government or with companies having federal contracts.
The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, according to a government source who asked not to be identified, is not yet ready to agree to the revised guidelines. But the source said the EEOC's reservations deal with proposed changes in testing methods and not the requirement of sex, race and ethnic background information from applicants.
The EEOC was established to enforce the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which prohibits discrimination in hiring. If the commission adopts the new guidelines, the commission presumably could push for the requirement in the private sector.

Jobless claims show increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The number of jobless Ohioans filing claims for unemployment benefits last week was the most since earlier this year, employment services Director Albert Giles said.
Giles said 20,792 persons sought benefits during the week ending Dec. 3. The previous record was 31,264 during the week ending Feb. 12.
The number last week was 16.2 percent over the previous week's filing of 17,888.
Cuyahoga County reported the most claimants — 2,500 — last week.

Legal hassles plague Goodin

CINCINNATI (AP) — Legal entanglements continue to build in the case of former Police Chief Carl Goodin, who won a reversal two weeks ago of a conviction on charges of perjury and tampering with evidence.
According to the Cincinnati Enquirer, Goodin's former vice squad commander whose conviction on the same charges also was reversed, testified against him before the Hamilton County grand jury last week.
On Friday, Lt. Richard Beyer gave a sworn statement in open court that Goodin had ordered him to prepare false records and to lie to the earlier grand jury. Beyer made his comments in a court hearing in which he was granted immunity from further prosecution in the case.
Although his conviction was reversed, Beyer's case had been sent back to Hamilton County Common Pleas Court for a new trial. Goodin's case was not.
"I said before I'm going to celebrate with my family through the holidays and that's what I'm doing," said Goodin.
His conviction was reversed by the 1st District State Court of Appeals.

"But it seems like everytime you get ready to celebrate somebody hits you between the eyes with a Louisville Slugger" baseball bat, he laughed.
Goodin, a native of Louisville, Ky., said he will consult with his lawyers concerning the latest development.
The convictions involved prosecution charges that Goodin and others improperly diverted cash from an informant's fund. The money came, allegedly from two police officers who were paid by commercial radio stations for conducting traffic reports from helicopters.
Goodin, who resigned during his litigation, denied the allegation.
The appeals court also reversed Beyer's conviction but sent the case back to Hamilton County Common Pleas Court for another trial.
Hamilton County Prosecutor Simon Leis Jr., meanwhile asked the appeals court to reconsider its decision. Leis' office said the case would be appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court if the appellate decision stands.

EDITOR, RECORD-HERALD:
Concerning the Christmas Parade on December 3, I would like to say "thank you" to Ron Farmer's for loaning us a new pickup truck to use in the parade. That sort of act just goes to show you that there are still many nice people left in this county. I would also like to comment on the public who came to watch the parade. I know how cold it was to be standing out there, but their support made the parade much more enjoyable for me, my brother John, and John Rhoads, the junior past master councilor of our chapter who rode with me. They were all so nice and friendly. A special thanks goes to Dale Haines who drove our truck.

Ohio traffic death toll 3

By The Associated Press
Bitter cold temperatures and generally poor road conditions apparently kept drivers at home this weekend, and those who did venture out evidently were cautious.
By early today, Ohio's traffic toll remained fairly low at three.
All of the victims were killed in single-vehicle accidents. Fatal accidents occurred Sunday in Washington County and Saturday in Cincinnati and Toledo.
The patrol kept its weekend traffic death count from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.
The dead:
SUNDAY
MARIETTA — Russell Heiss, 17, Beverly, when his pickup truck overturned on a Washington County road near Beverly.
SATURDAY
CINCINNATI — Michael C. Gordon, 24, Cincinnati, in a one-car accident on a city street.
TOLEDO — Emery Rebrish, 69, Ulica, Mich., in a one-car accident on Interstate 75 in Toledo.

Another Ohio steel plant set to close

BRILLIANT, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's battered steel industry has been rocked again with the announcement that the Ohio Ferro Alloys Corp. is closing its Brilliant plant and laying off 220 workers.
The Brilliant Works, one of four electric furnace smelting plants in the corporation, has been idle since mid-summer. OFAC officials now say it will be closed permanently because the firm cannot compete with low-priced foreign imports.
The announcement came as a shock to the workers and to business and community leaders of the surrounding Steubenville-Weirton, W. Va., district.
Vincent Zeno, president of the plant's United Steelworkers Local 4769, said some workers still do not believe the closing will be permanent.
"Some of the men think, or at least they hope, that something will happen to change the company's minds," he said. "But most of us, like it or not, see that the company had no choice because of the imports." The company's workers have six months to a year of supplemental unemployment benefits, depending on seniority, to cushion the blow.
Terminal supplemental unemployment benefits date to Oct. 1, when the new steel contract was signed. That means that newer workers at the plant have used up almost half their unemployment pay already.
OFA union workers have job preference rights at other OFA plants in Ohio and Alabama, but company officials do not expect many jobs to be available.

But William G. Dematte, plant manager, said the Nov. 28 announcement of the closing did not come as a total surprise to him.
"Our production cuts got worse as the imports increased," he said. "When we closed down temporarily in August, I was afraid this would happen."
Only last winter the company completed and began operating a $7 million air pollution control system at the plant. That now is probably the only part of the plant that has resale potential, corporation officials at the Canton headquarters said.
OFA is one of the nation's largest producers of alloys for the metals industry, particularly basic steel. Its giant electric furnaces smelt silicone, chrome, manganese and iron ores to make the alloy additives used to manufacture basic metals.

Charles E. Schott, vice president and treasurer, said the cost of closing the plant could reach $5 million under OFA's contract with the Ohio Power Co., which owns the land. The contract cannot be canceled until February 1979, and the company will have to pay a minimum monthly electric bill of $30,000 until then.
When the contract is ended, OFA will have nine months to restore the site to its original condition and return it to Ohio Power.

Warm trend hits nation

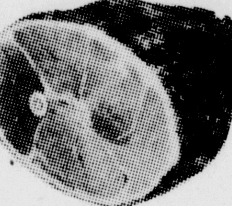

By The Associated Press
A warming trend creeping eastward from the Midwest today was replacing a mass of frigid air that set record low temperatures throughout the eastern half of the nation over the past several days.
More record low temperatures were recorded in several locations Sunday with still others expected in the predawn hours today in the Northeast.
The warm relief that sent temperatures rising dramatically across the Great Plains on Sunday was predicted to spread over the eastern rim of the nation today.
The high at Imperial, Neb., Sunday was 60 degrees compared to a high of 9 one day earlier.
Highs in the 50s were common in Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota where sub-zero readings were common late last week.
The warming trend also moderated readings in the Mississippi Valley, Midwest and Great Lakes regions during the night.
The bitter cold hung on, however, in the Northeast.
For example, the 15 below zero at Concord, N.H., shortly before midnight was a record low for Dec. 11, and it was 21 below early today at Glens Falls, N.Y.
Some slight warming was expected to reach the Northeast by this afternoon with temperatures returning to more normal levels on Tuesday.
Three new inches of snow fell overnight at Sault Ste Marie, Mich., and the National Weather Service said some snow was possible today from the northern Great Lakes into the northern Appalachians.

For the most part, however, it was a matter of thawing out from the snowstorms that created havoc and contributed to dozens of deaths last week.
Rain and snow showers in higher elevations were expected in the Northwest extending into the northern Rockies.
Rain showers were also forecast over east Texas and the lower Mississippi Valley with partly cloudy skies to dominate the remainder of the nation.
Early morning temperatures ranged from 72 at Miami and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to the minus 21 at Glens Falls.

Youngstown steel mill reopening eyed

By The Associated Press

The Youngstown, Ohio, steel mill — abandoned in September at a cost of 5,000 jobs — is the focus of proposed reopening plans that would put ownership and management in the hands of the workers and the community.

The proposals were to be revealed at a news conference today in Youngstown by the 50-member, interfaith Youngstown Religious Coalition.

Joining them will be representatives of two economic groups now researching the plans — the Western Reserve Economic Development Agency, and the Washington-based Exploratory Project for Economic Alternatives, a foundation-funded non-profit research group.

Dr. Gar Alperovitz, an economist for the Washington group who is drafting plans for the proposed worker-community takeover of the plant, estimated in an interview it would cost $10 million to purchase the Campbell plant from Lykes Corp., the present owner.

But he estimated that first-year inventory, capital loan and carrying costs would bring the total start-up bill to nearly $50 million.

If the financing plans are successful, the coalition hopes to reopen at least part of the steel mill by early spring. No estimates have been made yet on how many of the 5,000 laid off workers could eventually return to work at the plant.

The plans call for the eventual issuance of stock to the workers, city residents, local businesses and interested investors outside the city.

A key part of the reopening plan, said Alperovitz, would be "modernization of existing facilities, using the most advanced technologies, energy saving and pollution control methods. We want to be a positive thing, a demonstration project, rather than a charity case."

The closure of the Youngstown plant by Lykes, along with thousands of other related job losses, has had a devastating effect on the Ohio city's economy.

Alperovitz said the language of the Carter administration plan unveiled last week to aid the ailing steel industry led him to hope that part of the cost of a Youngstown plant reopening could be financed by drawing on a $1 billion revolving fund of federal Economic Development Agency money.

The reopening plans also count on loans or contributions from individuals, local banks, churches, foundations and universities.

"We would like to build a structure of real participation by the community and workers, with real identification and a sense of ownership," Alperovitz said.

The Carter steel program itself recommended "that the EDA and other relevant agencies give consideration in their analysis of funding requests to economically viable projects involving community or worker takeovers of abandoned steel facilities."

The idea of a community-worker takeover is not entirely new. Alperovitz estimates 400 to 500 companies in the United States are under worker ownership and management. The concept is common in Europe.

The Ohio National Guard was established July 25, 1788, at Marietta when the first law passed in what was then the Northwest Territory provided for establishment of the militia. The name National Guard was activated in 1864 when the militia law was changed.—AP

Local guardsmen honored for blizzard rescue duty

Members of Company A, 1st Battalion, 166th Infantry of the Ohio National Guard were honored in an awards ceremony Saturday at the National Guard Armory on S. Fayette Street.

Twenty-seven local guardsmen received certificates of appreciation for their service during the "Blizzard of 1977."

The certificates read: "For consistently braving sub-zero temperatures and heavily drifting snow to bring food and medical supplies to stranded citizens and rescue families stranded without fuel to their homes."

"(These) unselfish actions with total disregard for personal comfort prevented much unnecessary suffering among the people of Fayette County, Ohio."

"(This) selfless dedication and outstanding performance of duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of military service."

In addition, two guardsmen, PSG Patrick W. Massie and PSG Rodger D. Creamer, received the Ohio Distinguished Service Medal at Saturday's ceremonies.

Both guardsmen, along with SSG Raymond N. Shirkey who was not present for the awards ceremony, manned army personnel carriers, which cut through snowdrifts and delivered necessities to snowbound county residents.

The certificate from Ohio Gov. James Rhodes office accompanying the medal read:

"For meritorious service during the blizzard and snow emergency (from Jan. 28 to Feb. 5), the (guardsmen) totally disregarded their own personal desires for comfort and braved adverse weather conditions involving temperatures and wind chill factors of 60 degrees below zero to provide comfort, aid and assistance to the residents of Fayette County."

"Due to the impassable road conditions for normal vehicular traffic, the (guardsmen) were required to perform duties as a member of a crew on an armored personnel carrier. While performing such duties, (the guardsmen) were personally responsible for the delivery of food, clothing, and fuel oil to stranded families."

Awards not directly related to last winter's snow emergency were also given.

Fifteen guardsmen received the Award of Merit for having completed three years of honorable service.

The Ohio Faithful Service Ribbon was awarded to 16 guardsmen who had completed five consecutive years of honorable service.

Judge John McLean, who dissented from Justice Taney in the Dred Scott case, practiced law in Lebanon, Warren County, and before his appointment to the U.S. Supreme Court he had served as an Ohio Supreme Court justice and congressman.—AP

One minor injury reported in weekend mishap

Freezing temperatures, icy roads continue to plague motorists

Freezing temperatures and icy roads continued to cause hazards for area drivers over the weekend and resulted in one minor injury accident Sunday.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported John L. Jett, 27, 662 Jasper Coil Road claimed he was injured after his vehicle slid on off Jasper Coil Road about a half-mile north of U.S. 22 crashing into a mailbox post.

Jett was reportedly not treated at the time of the accident.

Sheriff's deputies said he was rounding a sharp left curve around 12:30 p.m. when the vehicle slid on the icy roadway and ran off the right side knocking over the mailbox post. Damage to the car was slight.

Area law enforcement officers reported several traffic accidents over the weekend:

POLICE:

SATURDAY-- An unidentified driver struck a parked car, belonging to James L. Payton, 508 Peabody Ave., in the parking lot of the VFW Post, 335 N. Water St., around 2:30 p.m. and left the scene, according to a police department report.

Cash, jewelry stolen

Local home burglarized

A S. Main Street residence was burglarized late Saturday night and an undisclosed amount of cash, jewelry and a stereo were stolen, according to a Washington C.H. Police Department report.

Janice Haynes, 31, of 408 S. Main St., reported to police officers her house was broken into between 10 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. Sunday. The unknown persons escaped with several ment report.

Sixteen-year-old Teresa L. Ward, 3281 Bogus Road, was cited by police officers after she pulled into the center lane of W. Court Street from a parking lot west of Hinde Street and struck another car in the side about 3:45 p.m. Her view of the oncoming car was reportedly obstructed by an oncoming truck. The other driver was Billie R. Curtis, 25, of Columbus. Neither driver was hurt.

A pickup truck, driven by Mary D. Kingery, 37, 8033 S. Railroad St., struck a parked car while attempting to pull from a parking space at the Washington Square Shopping Center around 6:30 p.m., police officers reported. There were no injuries.

SUNDAY-- Margaret A. Gilmer, 71, 5990 Good Hope Road, lost control of her vehicle when it slid on icy pavement as she turned onto E. Market Street from Fayette Street and struck a parked car. The accident occurred about 4:52 a.m. The parked car, which was undamaged, belonged to the Mike Cassidy Auto Sales Co. on S. Main Street. Ms. Gilmer was not injured.

Icy streets resulted in a collision on East Street at Fayette Street about noon. A car driven by Rollo M. Marchant, 52, of 521 East St., slid on ice when he tried to stop for a traffic signal behind another car and struck the other vehicle's rear, police officers reported. The other driver was Mark S. Johnson, 22, of 103 E. Ohio Ave. No injuries were reported.

Local resident David L. McLaughlin, 29, 608 Gregg St., was cited for failure to control after his car slid on ice-covered Rawlings Street just east of N. North Street and struck a light pole about 4:05 p.m. The pole, which was demolished, was the shared property of McKinley Kirk, 336 Rawlings St., and Mrs. Martha Reiff, 404 Rawlings St. McLaughlin's car was only slightly damaged.

SHERIFF:

SATURDAY-- A Leesburg woman, Toni C. Morelock, 40, lost control of her car on Washington-New Martinsburg Road nearly a half-mile south of Ohio 41 and overturned around 4:15 p.m. Sheriff's deputies stated the car spun around on the road and ran off the left side where it turned over on its passenger side. The woman escaped injury, but her vehicle sustained moderate damage.

Sheriff's deputies cited Rodger D. Seymour, 19, 940 Gregg St., after he struck a parked car on Peddicord Avenue near the intersection with Forest Street. Seymour reportedly turned onto Peddicord Avenue about 6:30 p.m. and traveled off the right side striking a car belonging to Cornelius R. Berwanger, 33, 522 Peddicord Ave. Seymour was cited for driving at a speed excessive for road conditions.

SUNDAY-- James R. Wilson Sr., 37, 3103 U.S. 62-NE, escaped injury when his car crashed into a road sign pole off the left side of Old U.S. 35 just south of Palmer Road. The crash occurred around 1:05 a.m. and resulted in moderate damages to the vehicle.

Another local man, Michael L. Morris, 19, of 4850 Ohio 41-N, crashed into two mailboxes and a tree off Ohio 41 north of Prairie Road about 4:15 a.m., sheriff's deputies reported. Morris' station wagon went off the right roadside striking one mailbox, then traveled over 130 feet in the snow along a ditch and struck a tree and another mailbox. Morris escaped the crash, which severely damaged his car, without injury.

According to another sheriff's department report, James E. Kemp,

Cleveland schools return to normal

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland schools return to normal today after the upheaval caused by teacher boycotts, but federal court is still concerned about the financial problems that brought on the school crisis.

Acting under special authorization from the Ohio legislature, the school board used borrowed funds to issue back paychecks last week to 11,000 employees who hadn't been paid since Nov. 11.

Jaycees hold weekly drive

The Washington C.H. Jaycee chapter held its weekly paper drive Saturday at the Seaway discount store parking lot on Clinton Avenue.

Local residents took advantage of the opportunity to dispose of their old newspapers, magazines, and catalogs at the paper drive.

On hand to unload cars were Leroy Farris, paper drive chairman. Other businesses and individuals contributing to the paper drive were Jerry Gault, the Record-Herald, the Weekly Advertiser, Seaway, and WCHO radio.

The Jaycee red paper shed is located at the east end of the Seaway parking lot where paper may be dropped off at the convenience of Jaycee paper savers. The shed is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The next Jaycee paper drive will be held on Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Seaway parking lot on Clinton Avenue.

69, of New Holland, backed his pick-up truck into a parked car in the Stephenson's Market parking lot, 3428 U.S. 22-E at Bogus Road around 7:15 p.m. Only minor damage resulted to the parked car, which belonged to Roger D. Cox, 22, of Leesburg.

Around 9:15 p.m. a jeep, driven by Gary L. Mercer, 27, of Hillsboro, sustained severe damage when it smashed into a fence and overturned off the left side of Greenfield-Sabina Road just west of U.S. 62. Sheriff's deputies reported Mercer was unharmed in the crash.

MONDAY-- Sheriff's deputies cited a Mount Sterling woman for driving while intoxicated after she drove off the right side of Ohio 41 about a half-mile north of Hickory Lane and struck a utility pole about 1:20 a.m. According to the accident report, Lauretta J. Rhoades, 47, lost control of her car and it traveled over 160 feet off the right roadside striking the pole. The vehicle reportedly continued nearly 190 feet coming to rest in the front yard of Mrs. Carroll Halliday's residence at 2174 Ohio 41-N. Ms. Rhoades was not injured.

Over weekend by police officers

Three shoplifting charges filed

Washington C.H. police officers arrested three persons on charges of shoplifting over the weekend following separate incidents at the Kroger-Savon store, 548 Clinton Ave.

Arrested Saturday were Merle Rayburn, 39, of 3123 Ohio 41-S, and Geraldine C. Fillmore, 22, of Leesburg. A security officer reportedly observed a man pass through the check-out stand with a $7.99 doll concealed under his coat. The subject's wife made a purchase, according to the police department report, but the man failed to pay for the doll. The incident occurred around 11:10 a.m.

The security officer stopped the subject in the store's lobby and recovered the item. Police officers were then summoned and arrested Rayburn on the charge.

He was released on bond pending a hearing in Washington C.H. Municipal Court.

Ms. Fillmore was arrested Saturday afternoon after she allegedly placed six items, valued at over $18, in her purse and attempted to leave the store without paying for them, police officers reported.

According to the security officer's statement, she was stopped outside the store around 4:55 p.m. and the six bottles of make-up and perfume were discovered in her purse.

Police officers were called and they arrested the Fillmore woman. She was incarcerated in the Fayette County jail awaiting a hearing in the city's Municipal Court.

A teenage youth was reportedly observed for 45 minutes by the store's security personnel as she allegedly filled three brown paper bags she had brought into the store with over $129 worth of items around 5 p.m. Sunday.

The police report stated she went through the check-out stand paying only for two tv dinners and then left the area. After making a phone call, she was seen placing the grocery bags into a car with the help of a male subject. The two were confronted by the security officer who called police officers.

The 16-year-old Clarksville was charged in connection with the incident and is being held in the Fayette County Juvenile Detention Center.

In another police department report, that same girl reportedly complained of hemoraging around 8:57 p.m. Sunday and told Fayette County sheriff's deputies she was four months pregnant. The deputies transported her to Fayette County Memorial Hospital where she was examined and released.

The youth was returned to the juvenile detention center pending a hearing in the Fayette County Juvenile Court.

Firemen check gas leak report

A suspected natural gas leak was investigated by Washington C.H. firefighters Saturday at a Sycamore Street residence.

Fire department officials stated a fuel oil smell was rising from the sewer connection at Sara Alkire's home, 212 Sycamore St. She had called firefighters about 4:40 p.m.

Firemen flushed the sewer traps with water. There was no damage reported.

The house is reportedly owned by Jane Alkire of Xenia.

A false alarm summoned firefighters to the Deanyview Nursing Home, 719 Rawlings St., around 5 p.m. Saturday.

Fire officials investigated the alarm and reported the alarm system had malfunctioned.

Snowmobile crash injures area man

A Bloomingburg man suffered minor injuries Saturday when he fell from a snowmobile near his home.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported 23-year-old Michael L. Reed, Bloomingburg, was injured when he fell off the right side of the vehicle while riding it in a field behind his residence at 2659 Ohio 734. The incident occurred around 7 p.m.

He was taken to Fayette County Memorial Hospital where he was treated and later released.

Aircraft crash kills 13 airmen

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (AP) — Thirteen American airmen were reported killed and another one was missing in the crash of a U.S. Navy patrol plane that hit a mountain Sunday and exploded on one of the Canary Islands, off the northwest coast of Africa.

A U.S. spokesman said rescue workers recovered 13 bodies from the crash site on a 4,200-foot mountain on the island of Hierro and were searching for the remains of the other man.

The four-engine Lockheed P-3 Orion was on a training flight from the U.S. Air Force's Lajes Base in the Azores. Officials on Hierro, at the southwest end of the chain of Spanish islands, said the plane was flying in clouds and rain at 1,200 feet when it hit the mountain.

Tampa Bay ends two-year skid

They're not laughing in New Orleans

By The Associated Press
Undoubtedly, Archie Manning has learned to keep his mouth shut. The Tampa Bay Buccaneers only wish there were more outspoken players like him in the National Football League.

Manning, the veteran quarterback of the New Orleans Saints, infuriated the hapless Bucs last week by saying that it would be disgraceful to lose to Tampa Bay.

The downtrodden expansion team, which had lost 26 consecutive games since joining the NFL last season, made Manning regret his comments Sunday.

Rising to the greatest heights in their brief history, the aroused Bucs physically blasted the Saints 33-14, then verbally tormented Manning.

"It's disgraceful! It's disgraceful!" the Tampa players jeered at Manning as the clock ticked toward the Bucs' first previous victory.

"We just read the article to them where Archie said it would be disgraceful to lose to Tampa Bay," relieved Coach John McKay said with a smile in the joyous Bucs' dressing room. "Whatever Archie Manning said, I agree with him. He said it would be a disgrace to lose, and it is."

"Archie must have been looking at our offense," McKay added. "Our defense has never been disgraceful."

Tampa Bay had scored only 53 points in 12 games before Sunday. Against the Saints, their defense was outstanding. The Bucs intercepted six New Orleans passes and scored on three of them, with Mike Washington, Richard Wood and Greg Johnson getting the TDs.

"If we can get some more guys to make statements like that . . ." McKay said.

While the Bucs were reveling in their first victory, the Oakland Raiders, last season's Super Bowl champions, also were celebrating. The Raiders clinched the American Football Conference wild card playoff berth with a 35-13 victory over the Minnesota Vikings, their victims in last January's Super Bowl.

Elsewhere in the NFL Sunday, the Chicago Bears whipped the Green Bay Packers 21-10, the New England Patriots downed the Miami Dolphins 14-10, the Detroit Lions upset the Baltimore Colts 13-10, the Denver Broncos downed the San Diego Chargers 17-9, the Los Angeles Rams trimmed the Atlanta Falcons 23-7, the Houston Oilers topped the Cleveland Browns 19-15, the Seattle Seahawks outscored the Kansas City Chiefs 34-31, the Philadelphia Eagles overcame the New York Giants 17-14 and the Buffalo Bills shaded the New York Jets 14-10.

Saturday, the Cincinnati Bengals beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 17-10 and the Washington Redskins defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 26-20.

In tonight's nationally televised game, the San Francisco 49ers entertained the Dallas Cowboys.

Raiders 35, Vikings 13
Oakland, capitalizing on Minnesota mistakes, scored three times in the first eight minutes and romped to their 10th victory in 13 games.

The loss dropped Minnesota into a first-place tie with Chicago at 8-5 in the National Football Conference Central Division. However, the Vikings can win the division title by beating Detroit Saturday night.

Bears 21, Packers 10
The running of Walter Payton and the pass catching of James Scott keyed Chicago's victory over Green Bay, the fifth straight triumph for the Bears. Payton, the NFL rushing leader, ran for 163 yards and two touchdowns and returned two kickoffs for 95 yards. He needs 199 yards rushing in the final game against the Giants to break O.J. Simpson's single-season record of 2,003 yards.

Patriots 14, Dolphins 10
New England's victory over Miami, coupled with Detroit's upset over Baltimore, threw the AFC East race into a three-way tie for first place among the Patriots, Dolphins and Colts, each with 9-4 records. A Baltimore victory over New England Sunday would make the Colts division champions. If the Patriots win and Miami wins, the Dolphins would be champions. And if New England wins and Miami loses, the Patriots would be alone at the top.

Lions 13, Colts 10
Detroit overcame Baltimore with nine seconds remaining when Leonard Thompson blocked David Lee's punt, recovered the ball at the Colts' two and ran for a touchdown.

Broncos 17, Chargers 9
The Broncos, heading into the playoffs for the first time in their 18-year history, increased their record to 12-1, the best in the NFL, by overcoming San Diego on Jim Turner's 36-yard field goal and Rick Upchurch's 19-yard scoring run in the fourth quarter.

Rams 23, Falcons 7
Los Angeles, the NFC West champion, assured itself of the home field advantage in the first round of the playoffs Dec. 26 and eliminated Atlanta from playoff contention by beating the Falcons.

Lawrence McCutcheon set Rams' career and single-season rushing records. He carried 17 times for 152 yards, boosting his five-year career total to 5,498 yards, breaking Dick Bass' mark of 5,417, established from 1960-69, and raising his single season record to 1,213 yards.

Oilers 19, Browns 15
"This wasn't football, this was survival," said Houston cornerback Willie Alexander after the Oilers had handed the Browns their third straight loss in seven-degree temperature and icy gusts in Cleveland.

Ron Coleman ran for two touchdowns for Houston and Billy Johnson scampered 72 yards on a punt return for another score.

Seahawks 34, Chiefs 31
Seattle's victory marked the fifth straight loss for Kansas City and jeopardized the job of Tom Bettis, the Chiefs' interim coach. The Seahawks scored all five of their touchdowns in the first half, while Kansas City's Gary Barbaro tied an NFL record by returning an intercepted pass 102 yards for a touchdown.

Eagles 17, Giants 14
Rookie Wilbert Montgomery returned the second-half kickoff 99 yards for a touchdown and quarterback Ron Jaworski ran one yard for a score with 20 seconds remaining, lifting Philadelphia over the Giants.

Bills 11, Jets 10
Joe Ferguson's second touchdown pass of the game to Bob Chandler — an 11-yarder with 40 seconds remaining — carried Buffalo to its victory over the Jets. The scoring play capped a 92-yard drive in 1:17.

Houston last playoff obstacle

Bengals in driver's seat with seven-point victory

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals, one victory away from a miracle finish, have the two-time Super Bowl champion Pittsburgh Steelers right where they want them — on thin ice.

"They're in the driver's seat," admitted "Mean" Joe Greene, the Steelers defensive leader after Cincinnati's 17-10 National Football League victory Saturday.

Overcoming extreme cold, Cincinnati scored 10 points in an 18-second burst to move to the doorstep of a playoff berth. In the process, the Bengals ended three years of frustrating losses to Pittsburgh.

"This one counts a lot in the standings. But it counts more in the heart," said a jubilant Pat McNally, who caught a 43-yard touchdown pass from Ken Anderson late in the third quarter to break a 10-10 deadlock.

Anderson, criticized early in the year when the Bengals got off to a 2-4 start, produced his finest effort of the season, passing for 303 yards in wind chill factored temperatures of five below zero. His performance put Cincinnati in a first place tie with Pittsburgh.

Both are 8-5, but Cincinnati's necessary seven-point victory gave the Bengals a 31-30 advantage in points scored between the two.

A victory at Houston Sunday in the season finale would give the Bengals their first outright division title since 1970 and snap Pittsburgh's streak of playoff appearances at five straight.

The Steelers haven't abandoned hope.

"We just have to put faith in Lady Luck," said quarterback Terry Bradshaw, who called game conditions "the worst ever." There were nine fumbles on the frozen field, with Bengals' middle linebacker Jim LeClair missing the second half from frostbite.

Pittsburgh could still win the playoff spot if Cincinnati loses at Houston and the Steelers prevail at San Diego.

Greene doesn't see Cincinnati missing its chance.

"It's been a long time coming for them, and I don't think they're going to mess it up now," he said.

For a while, it looked like the Bengals had let too many opportunities slip away.

"We had them on the ropes early, but we couldn't put them away," said McNally. "We should have been ahead 21-0 at the half."

Anderson sparked the turnaround, hitting Billy Brooks on a 57-yard bomb late in the third quarter. It resulted in a 24-yard field goal by Chris Bahr that tied the game at 10-10.

On the ensuing kickoff, Lenvil Elliott recovered a Jim Smith fumble at the 43, setting the stage for the Anderson-McNally connection.

Ironically, McNally was designated as a decoy on the play. "The fullback was the intended receiver," said Anderson.

"I was supposed to run deep and distract them," said McNally.

Coach Bill Johnson savored the emotional victory that snapped the Pittsburgh jinx.

"All that garbage about Pittsburgh's superiority and psychological advantage . . . it's all over," Added Brooks: "It proves talk is cheap."

McNally saw the victory as a breakthrough. "They have a great team with a lot of class, but we're just coming into our own," he said.

Squares vs. the swingers

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

The Dallas Cowboys and the Oakland Raiders — two teams on a collision course toward football's Super Bowl.

Here we go again. A matchup of the squares and the free swingers, the disciples of stern discipline against the easy riders, the toe-the-line boys against the swashbucklers, the old crew-cut Cincinnati Reds and shaggy-bearded Charley Finley A's in helmets and pads instead of baseball uniforms.

Choose up sides. America's social order is subjected again to the looking glass. Which is the highway to success — the straight and narrow or the one strewn with hijinks and temptation?

The contrast between these two National Football League powers who appear headed toward their respective conference championships is marked at almost every level of their organizations but it's most conspicuous at the key offensive spot — quarterback.

"I like to run around, keep bad hours, drink, stuff like that," says Oakland's Ken (The Snake) Stabler, twice-divorced, a self-confessed brawler who admits he lives as if quarterbacks are an endangered species.

The lean Navy veteran who directs the field destinies of the Cowboys, Roger Staubach, will never be caught busting up a local saloon.

"People wonder why they do not see me in public much," says Roger. "I am a family man. I like my privacy. After a game, I want to go home to my wife and children." Staubach, active in the Federation of Christian Athletes and involved in numerous charities, is married and has five children, aged six months to 11 years.

The personalities and life styles of the two signal callers partly reflect the images of the men who pull the strings behind the curtains.

Oakland's head coach is a 6-foot-4, 260-pound bull of a man with an unkempt shock of red hair, John Madden, who prowls the sideline like an uncaged bear, bellowing at players and officials in a voice that shakes the stadium. Dallas' Tom Landry, dry, quiet, analytical, impeccable in hat and neatly-creased business suit, looks like a man going to a Sunday church service.

Stabler says discipline is not Madden's "bag," that the coach gives the team a great deal of freedom. "He knows where to draw the line . . . It's a little farther back than most lines."

Of Landry, who sends in Dallas' plays from the sidelines, Staubach says, "I might prefer to call signals but we all have the greatest respect for Tom's judgment. He is a brilliant man."

"I'm an admirer of Joe Namath," Stabler recently told Sport Magazine. "But Bobby Layne's more my kind of guy. The kind who bird-hunts, fishes and drinks in little dives. When he was playing, he'd get blasted the night before the game, then go out the next day and throw the bomb."

Says Staubach: "I lost four years of football in the Navy. I've got to take maximum care of myself to prolong my career."

Staubach says, "I don't want to sound corny but I am just fortunate to be on a good team."

Former UK coach winningest ever

Adolph Rupp dies at 76

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Adolph F. Rupp, whose 42-year coaching record at the University of Kentucky is unparalleled in college basketball history, was a driving force in the sport's transformation from football stepchild to international pastime.

Rupp, 76, died Saturday night in the university's medical center, where he had been hospitalized since Nov. 9 and had received treatment for cancer of the spine for more than a year.

His death prompted an outpouring of tribute from coaching rivals and former players and came minutes after top-ranked Kentucky's 73-66 victory over Kansas, his alma mater.

Gov. Julian M. Carroll proclaimed Tuesday a day of mourning and flags will be at half-staff when Rupp is buried in Lexington Cemetery.

"Coach Rupp was a legend when I was playing college basketball," said Tennessee Coach Ray Mears, one of Rupp's longtime adversaries. "I played against the Fabulous Five (in 1949). He was one of the greats, I mean really greats, in the game."

"Basketball is a game that was started in the United States and he's one of the men who got it off the ground," Mears said.

Rupp was a 28-year-old high school coach in Freeport, Ill., when the university beckoned him to be its sixth basketball coach in eight years. Forty-two years and 374 victories later, he was forced to retire as the winningest coach of all time.

Five years before, an 81-73 victory over Notre Dame had given him 772 career wins, pushing him past his mentor at Kansas, Forrest C. "Phog"

The Los Angeles Dodgers played their first 737 home games without a rainout. The string was broken April 21, 1967.

Allen

It also left him far ahead of UCLA's John Wooden, who retired in 1975 after winning 667 games and 10 national titles. The latter statistic fueled arguments that the Wizard of Westwood was a better coach than the Baron of the Bluegrass, but Wooden staked no such claim.

"I never look at it in that manner," he said. "I never considered myself at any time to be competing with other coaches. Certainly, when we won our fourth championship, I knew there was only one other coach in history that had done it and that was something I was very proud of."

"Since we were coaching in different parts of the country, Coach Rupp and I never saw each other regularly, except at coaching clinics and NCAA conventions," Wooden said. "But I certainly enjoyed those times. He was an amazing person to talk to and always enjoyable to be with."

Utah visitors roast hosts

By The Associated Press

The hosts usually have the most on the ball in college basketball's innumerable homegrown tournaments, but that wasn't the case in the state of Utah over the weekend.

In both the Utah Classic and in Salt Lake City and the Cougar Classic in Provo, the hosts were treated rather rudely.

Utah, the nation's 14th-ranked team, lost an 80-79 decision to Long Beach State Saturday night in the Utah Classic and Brigham Young wasn't even in the finals of its own Cougar Classic. William & Mary, one of the nation's surprise teams, won that one with a 61-60 decision over Montana.

"I feel really rotten about the loss," said Utah Coach Jerry Pimm. "We broke down on offense. We just lost momentum in the second half and missed a lot of free throws."

Long Beach State Coach Dwight Jones, who prior to the game had expressed a fear of Utah's speed, counted the victory among the most cherished in his life.

"It was probably the biggest win of my coaching career," said Jones.

Cougar host Brigham Young suffered the double indignity of losing the consolation game as well as the opener. The Cougars, who had shown well earlier in the year at UCLA, dropped an 80-75 decision to California-Fullton in the consolation game.

Bruce Parkhill, whose William & Mary team shocked second-ranked North Carolina last week, was just happy to be in the finals of the Cougar Classic — no less win it.

"In my mind at least I wanted to get into the finals," Parkhill said. "I felt like after that anything else would be icing on the cake."

In other tournaments, North Carolina-Charlotte captured its first Union Invitational at Charlotte, N.C., with a 68-67 decision over La Salle; Florida State crushed Seton Hall 94-63 in the finals of the Big Sun Tournament at St. Petersburg, Fla.; Auburn routed Oklahoma State 112-94 in the Marshall Memorial Invitational at Huntington, W. Va.; New Orleans tripped Seton 84-61 in the Hatter Classic in Deland, Fla.; Pepperdine won its Malibu Classic in Los Angeles by defeating Loyola, Calif., 79-76 in overtime and Georgetown won the Hoya Invitational in Washington, D.C., Sunday night with a 66-60 decision over Georgia.

Elsewhere in college basketball over the weekend, top-ranked Kentucky defeated No. 19 Kansas 73-66; North Carolina crushed Rochester 101-43; No. 3 Notre Dame edged No. 5 UCLA 69-66; fourth-ranked Marquette defeated Florida 81-67; No. 6 Arkansas beat Oklahoma 64-53; No. 8 San Francisco topped Cal-Santa Barbara 63-57 in overtime; No. 9 Michigan triumphed Dayton 71-61 and 10th-ranked Nevada-Las Vegas took a 104-103 double-overtime victory over Tulsa.

Indiana State, the nation's No. 11 team, whipped Evansville 102-76; George Washington upset 12th-ranked Maryland 101-90; Rutgers surprised No. 13 St. John's 72-61; No. 15 Holy Cross trimmed Yale 67-62; No. 16 Louisville routed Robert Morris 104-68 and No. 18 Syracuse blasted St. Bonaventure 107-81.

Utah had a hefty 59-43 lead with 10 minutes left in the game when Long Beach made a comeback behind two mercurial guards, Rickey Williams and Donnie Martin. Three minutes later, the score was tied at 64. With just over a minute to play, Williams scored a field goal to give the 49ers an 80-77 lead and their eventual winning points.

William & Mary's victory was fashioned behind John Lowenhaupt's 16 points. The winners took an early lead and never lost it, although Montana cut their advantage to 46-44 at one time with the help of a fullcourt press. But Montana tripped over its turnovers near the end.

James George came off the bench in the final seven minutes to score 13 points and lead North Carolina-Charlotte over La Salle; Harry Davis scored 22 points and grabbed 22 rebounds as Florida State beat Seton Hall; Matt Mitchell's 31 points led Auburn past Oklahoma State; Wayne Cooper and Ardith Warren combined for 29 points to power New Orleans past Stetson; Pepperdine defeated Loyola behind Raymond Knight's 35 points and Derrick Jackson's 18 points led Georgetown over Georgia.

Mike Phillips and Kyle Macy scored 14 points apiece and sparked a second-half surge that carried Kentucky past Kansas. Al Wood scored 18 points and North Carolina jumped to a 20-0 lead in taking an easy victory over outgunned Rochester.

Dave Battior scored 22 points, 18 of them in the first half, to lead Notre Dame over UCLA at the Bruins' Pauley Pavilion.

Marquette's victory over Florida was sparked by 26 points from Butch Lee and 16 from Bernard Toone. Sidney Moncrief's game-high 25 points led Arkansas over Oklahoma. James Hardy scored all eight of his team's points in overtime to lead San Francisco over Cal-Santa Barbara. Freshman Mike McGee and senior Dave Baxter scored 18 points each to power Michigan over Dayton.

B-B-Browns lose t-t-to Oilers, 19-15

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND (AP) — Houston coach Bum Phillips called it "miserable" and quarterback Dan Pastorini called it "bleep-ball," but the Oilers ignored the frigid Ohio weather long enough to beat the Cleveland Browns, 19-15 Sunday in a ragged National Football League game.

With huge piles of snow surrounding the frozen field, the Browns outgained the Oilers, 400-167. But, they continually blunted their own attack by losing four of six fumbles and throwing four interceptions.

"This wasn't football," explained

Houston cornerback Willie Alexander. "It was survival. The team that survived won the football game. Late in the second half, I thought my toes would freeze off."

"I would call this kind of a game bleep-ball," said Pastorini, who threw just 12 times in the game. "Screens and straight ahead, that's the only way to play in weather like this."

Phillips added, "I only saw snow twice in my life. You can't practice being miserable, but weather like this is part of the game."

The Browns, losers of three games in a row and five of their last six, allowed

Houston to build a 19-6 lead, but came back to make it close with a third quarter safety and a three-yard scoring pass from quarterback Terry Luck to tight end Gary Parris with 3:05 remaining.

Cleveland, 6-7, got the ball back once more, but an interception at midfield killed their hopes of a come-from-behind victory and gave Houston, 7-6, sole possession of third place in the AFC Central Division.

"I couldn't be happier with this team than today," said Cleveland coach Forrest Gregg. "We've had a lot of strife and we've lost some tough games. Last Sunday at San Diego, we just didn't play."

"Today they came to play," he added. "They played their hearts out. Maybe they even tried too hard. The fumbles were because our people were playing hard. They were trying to get the extra yard."

An interception by Houston middle guard Curley Culp deep in Cleveland territory in the first quarter set up the first quarter set up the first of two close-in touchdowns by Ronnie Coleman, a three-yard dive, putting the Oilers ahead to stay.

Houston added a second period score on a two-yard sweep by Coleman, capping a long drive that began when Cleveland running back Greg Pruitt, who gained 92 yards in 23 carries, fumbled at Houston's 23.

Don Cockroft kick first half field goals of 26 and 40 yards to keep the Browns close, but Billy "White Shoes" Johnson assured the Houston victory by turning a line drive Greg Coleman punt into a 72-yard touchdown burst at 10:03 of the third period.

Cleveland started second-year player Dave Mays at quarterback, but Luck, a rookie, came in early in the second period and piled up 188 yards on 16 completions in 27 passing attempts. Each of the Browns' quarterbacks had two passes intercepted, including a decisive one by Houston cornerback Zeke Moore in the third quarter, ending a Cleveland drive at the Oilers' 15-yard line.

"He (Luck) played pretty well," Gregg said. "It was his first real league experience. He knew what to do with the football."

Paint Valley beats McClain

GREENFIELD, Ohio — Greenfield McClain, which is having trouble keeping school in session because of the weather, is also having trouble on the basketball court.

Saturday evening, the Tigers lost their second game in as many tries this season, dropping a 56-45 decision to Paint Valley.

The Tigers jumped out to an 8-2 lead in the first quarter but saw it dwindle to 10-9 at the end of the period. After that, the Bearcats took over and outscored McClain, 47-35 the rest of the way.

Rob McCray, the SCOL's leading scorer after last week, relinquished his lead by scoring only 14 points. However, that was the high for Greenfield and only Jim Everhart and McCray got into double figures. Everhart scored 10 points.

Jack Baisan led Paint Valley with 15 points while Paul Rinchart scored 11 and Jeff Zickafoose scored 10.

Greenfield's reserves got some consolation by laying it out the Bearcat jayvees, 48-21.

Greenfield will be in action again tomorrow night if the weather holds. They will play at Washington C.H.

LA wins despite miscues

Lakers 'turnover' a new leaf

By The Associated Press
The Los Angeles Lakers have been averaging a whopping 19.3 turnovers every time they play... but they couldn't even give the game away to the Buffalo Braves.

The fumbling Lakers made more than their average of errors — 20 turnovers, in fact, on Sunday night — yet despite their inefficiency, held on to beat the Braves 124-119 in overtime.

"I don't know if we played so well all the time, but we made all the key plays when we had to and we worked hard tonight," said Los Angeles Coach Jerry West after the National Basketball Association game in Los Angeles.

The Lakers, champions of the Pacific Division last year, have turned things around this season — in the wrong direction. Currently they are fourth in their group, with a 10-15 record.

In the other NBA games, the Seattle SuperSonics whipped the Houston Rockets 116-84 and the New Jersey Nets trimmed the Washington Bullets 106-95.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Lou Hudson combined to score 14 of Los Angeles' 15 points in overtime as the Lakers edged the Braves. Abdul-Jabbar wound up with a season-high 43 points and 19 rebounds.

The teams were tied at 109 at the end of regulation play after the Lakers' Tom Abernathy evened the score with a 15-foot jumper with four seconds left.

Fifteen seconds into overtime, Hudson fired in a jump shot and followed with a layup after a rebound and a long pass from Abernathy. The Lakers led the rest of the way.

Sonics 116, Rockets 84

Marvin Webster led a balanced Seattle attack, scoring 17 points and grabbing 14 rebounds, as the Sonics routed the Rockets. The Sonics had seven players in double figures as they won their sixth straight game under their new coach, Lenny Wilkens.

Nets 106, Bullets 95

Kevin Porter tossed in 30 points and dished out 17 assists to pace New Jersey to a surprisingly easy victory over Washington. Porter, who led the Bullets to the Eastern Conference title in 1975, completely controlled the game with his shooting and penetrating.

Tressel edges Miami's Crum

Baldwin-Wallace named tops

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Baldwin-Wallace's Lee Tressel modestly received the news that he had been selected the 1977 Ohio College Football Coach of the Year in the annual balloting conducted by the Columbus Dispatch.

"There are a lot of deserving coaches in Ohio," said Tressel, who also won the 1961 award. "Some of them probably did a better job than I did, but didn't necessarily have the material."

Tressel edged Miami's Dick Crum for the award by the narrowest margin ever in the 26-year history of the balloting.

Thirty Ohio coaches voted and gave Tressel the 1977 title by 1½ votes. University of Dayton's Rick Carter was third in the balloting.

Tressel led Baldwin-Wallace to an 9-1 record that included an upset of Wittenberg in the Ohio Conference championship game. Crum also produced a champion, guiding Miami to a 5-0 record in the Mid-American and a 10-1 over-all mark.

Baldwin-Wallace's only loss was an early season setback to Wittenberg, later avenged in the OC playoff.

"I'm tickled, real tickled," said Tressel, a graduate of Baldwin-Wallace. "A lot of factors go into a successful season. We happened to have them all this year."

Stram on the outs in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — New Orleans Saints owner John Mecom Jr., who has a short fuse when it comes to coaches, says he's unhappy with his team's current chief, Hank Stram.

"This is a poorly coached team," Mecom fumed Sunday after watching his National Football League club take a 33-14 beating from previously winless Tampa Bay.

Mecom has fired three head coaches during the Saints' 11-year history, in which the team has never compiled a win-loss record of better than 5-9.

"This is the worst performance since that 62-7 loss to Atlanta under John North," said Mecom. He referred to the game that started the 1973 season and ended North's career with the Saints.

Mecom said Stram won't listen to him. "There is dissension on the defensive team," said Mecom. "I've told him that and doesn't believe me. Now it's infecting the offense."

Stram said he was "very ashamed" of his team's performance before a booing home crowd, but he declined comment on Mecom's criticism.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♣	2♥	2♠	4♥
Pass	Pass	5♣

Opening lead - jack of hearts.

Bridge is not played in a vacuum. There are opponents — real, live, honest-to-goodness opponents — who sometimes push you around and propel you into the wrong contract. For example, take this deal from the 1974 world championship match between Italy and North America. Sammy Kehela, playing with Eric Murray (both of Toronto, Canada), held the South hand when the bidding went as shown. Garozzo's two heart bid was of the weak jump overcall variety, designed to cramp the enemy in their bidding space. Belladonna's jump to four hearts over two spades was more of the same brand of medicine. Belladonna knew that Garozzo could not make four hearts, but he wanted to apply extra pressure on the opponents.

Kehela, having opened with a minimum opening bid, felt constrained to pass despite his good spade support. And Murray, who couldn't afford to bid four spades over four hearts with his moth-eaten suit, quite properly chose to bid five clubs. Garozzo led a heart, won by the ace, and Belladonna returned a low diamond. Declarer's king lost to the ace and, when the diamond eight was returned to his queen, Kehela was faced with the problem of how to win the rest of the tricks.

As usual, Kehela played the hand in first-rate style. Judging from the bidding that East was more likely to have the queen of spades than West, Kehela led a club to dummy's king and returned a low spade to his jack.

After heaving a sigh of relief when the jack held, Kehela led a club to dummy's ace, played a low spade to the ten, and could now safely draw the last trump before overtaking his king of spades with the ace to make exactly five clubs.

'Arteritis' and Vision Loss

My mother went to an eye doctor who said that her slight loss of vision was due to "arteritis" of the side of the head. How serious is this condition? — Mrs. A.E.T., Miss.

Dear Mrs. T.:

Readers should not be confused by the term "arteritis." It is not the same as "arthritis." Arteritis involves the large blood vessel that runs along the side of the face and the forehead. There is a relationship between arteritis and loss of vision. It is for this reason that a small piece of the artery is removed under local anesthesia and carefully studied under a microscope.

Once the diagnosis of arteritis is definitely established, cortisone is used with excellent results. When large doses of cortisone are continued for eight to 12 months, there is a marked possibility that serious visual complications will be reduced.

I had my fortune told with tea leaves and with palm reading. I've been told that I have a short lifeline and it worries me sick. I'm so afraid they're right. — Miss R.M.N., S.C.

Dear Miss N.:

For centuries people have been caught up in the mysticism that surrounds reading of tea leaves and palm line interpretations. One of the penalties they pay is unnecessary fear about longevity and health.

By now, your anxiety has mounted to the point where it has interfered with your normal daily productivity and personal happiness.

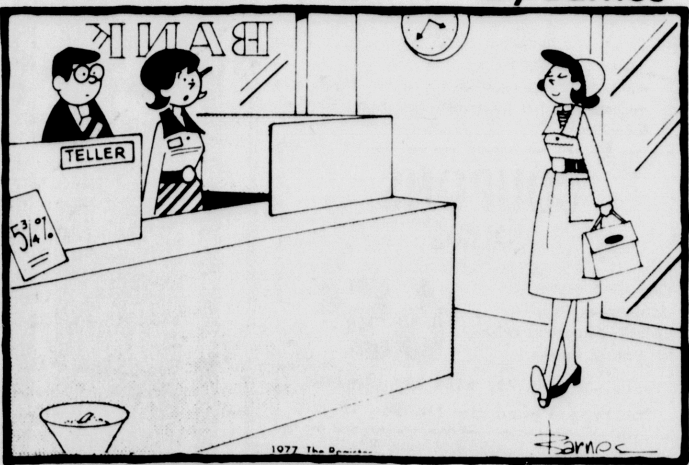

As long as people continue to expose themselves to these unscientific interpretations they are assuming the risk of being burdened with this kind of needless anxiety.

It is well-known that the lines of the palms and the fingertips become permanent about five months before a child is born. These prints never vary thereafter. Longevity rates have increased enormously since the turn of the century. It's obvious, then, that the children with the so-called "short lifeline" will live longer, just as the children with the "long lifeline" will.

To remove the fears that have been implanted in your mind, I suggest that you get a complete medical checkup and learn, once and for all, if there is any existing disorder that needs attention.

Hillsboro budget hurt by income tax failure

HILLSBORO, Ohio — Approximately $165,000 will be trimmed from the Hillsboro city budget in 1978, according to the city council finance committee. The finance committee pointed out cuts are necessary because an increased city income tax issue failed to pass at the November general election. Cuts recommended include $16,000 in new equipment from the police department; $5,000 in overtime from the fire department; a cut in the life squad budget from $55,180 to $9,000 (which will operate the emergency service until March 1), and elimination of all new storm sewers and street resurfacing. Several other proposed cuts would increase recommended savings to $132,500. More cuts are anticipated at a later date, the council committee said. An attempt is being made to resubmit the city income tax for a special election on March 7.

A DONATION of land for the benefit of Highland District Hospital in Hillsboro is being considered by the Highland County Board of Commissioners.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferry Robinson, who own land on Ohio 73 adjacent to the hospital property, have indicated they would like to donate the land for a right-of-way to connect Ohio 73 and U.S. 62. Easier access to the hospital by emergency vehicles would be the result.

Officials said U.S. 62 where the hospital is located is presently a narrow, congested highway. An existing shopping center, the city's recreational park, an industrial concern and other smaller businesses are situated in the same vicinity.

THE FEDERAL Highway Administration has withdrawn its funds from the Barrett Mill Road and bridge project, according to Highland County Engineer Lowell McCarty.

McCarty said the fund withdrawal is the result of a suit filed in U.S. District Court by Jack I. Hope, Horace M. Barrett and the South Central Ohio Preservation Society, which hopes to preserve the historic Barrett's Mill.

The loss of funds amounted to $600,000.

McCarty stated, "the real losers in the action are the residents of the Barrett Mill area who do not currently have adequate access to their farms and residences for fire trucks, emergency equipment and commercial interests."

Efforts will be made to find new ways of financing the project, McCarty said.

Warmer weather is on the way for Ohio. Lows last night were in the teens. But they occurred during the evening hours and temperatures have been rising ever since.

Already the temperature readings in northern Ohio are about 10 degrees higher than Sunday's highs.

Highs today will be near 30 in the north to near 40 in the south. Temperatures will remain in that same range tonight.

Highs Tuesday will be in the 40s. The high pressure area which gave Ohio the cold temperatures and sunny skies Sunday is moving eastward.

A low pressure area is developing in the Dakotas. It will cause mostly cloudy skies and warm, gusty, southerly winds in Ohio today as it approaches. And there will be a good chance of showers Tuesday.

WEDNESDAY THROUGH FRIDAY: Chance of showers Wednesday and a chance of showers or snow flurries over the northeast Thursday. Fair Friday. Highs in 40s and lows in the 30s Wednesday, cooling to highs in the low to mid 30s and lows in the teens and low 20s by Friday.

Problems loom for Russians in drilling for oil deposits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has nearly as much undiscovered oil in a single deposit as the United States has altogether, the U.S. government estimates, but the Russians will have a devil of a time getting the precious liquid out of the frozen earth.

The deposit, known as the West Siberian Basin, covers an area twice the size of Alaska. But it lies hundreds of miles from Soviet industry and refineries and nearly half of it sits above the Arctic Circle, the U.S. Geological Survey said in a report Sunday.

Even if there were pipelines to carry the oil west to populated European Russia, drillers would have large problems with the delicate soil that covers the permanently frozen Siberian subsoil.

Survey estimates show the Siberian deposit holds at least 48 billion barrels of oil and 300 trillion cubic feet of natural gas. Best estimates of total U.S. undiscovered reserves are 56 million barrels and 377 trillion feet respectively.

"The rate of (Soviet) development and production will depend on a variety of factors ... including how long it will take to develop transportation systems and to overcome difficult problems of hostile terrain and long distances from market and refinery points," said O.W. Girard Jr., author of the estimate.

"Some of these vast resources may, in fact, be as far away from the market place as our own huge hydrocarbon resources tied up in oil shale deposits," Girard concluded.

The U.S. is struggling to develop technology to free oil from shale, an abundant commodity but so far unusable on a large scale.

In August the CIA predicted the Soviets will be importing oil by 1985, putting them in the same supply crunch with the U.S., which now relies on OPEC nations for much of its supply.

The effects of the Russians entering the oil import market could sharply intensify U.S.-Soviet political rivalry in the Mideast, the CIA predicted.

The diminished supply would hurt Russia's eastern European allies, especially Hungary, which is paying its oil import bill with the U.S.S.R. by contributing heavily to building the Soviet pipeline under construction from the Urals to Siberian fields.

The Soviet satellites depend on the Soviet Union for 75 percent of their supply, with Romania the only one with any oil production of its own.

Russia's dwindling supply also will affect some western European NATO countries that draw on Soviet refining, currently the largest of any country in the world.

CIA experts also predict the oil supply dilemma will create problems for Soviet leaders as they attempt to maintain the current level of military spending. Part of that money may be diverted to pay the fuel bill for the world's largest and coldest country, the CIA predicted.
